Railroad Brakeman Runs Amuck In Home With Gun At Trafford

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 24.—Arthur Crewe, 40, a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, early today ran amuck with a gun at his home in Suburban Trafford, killing his wife, three of their nine children and finally himself.

"Pap's gone crazy: he's shooting everybody.," a son William, 16, shouted as he ran screaming from the house to the home of Mrs. Lawrence Driever. The othr five children fled to the homes of neighbors.

The father was severely injured on the head at work last January, it was learned, and had since complained of pains in the head and neck according to the neighbors.

Uses Knife

State police said the father ran through the little farm house at Murraysville, near Trafford, with a 30-30 repeating rifle, firing at random. The mother and three children were trapped in a little hallway adjoining the bedroom and mowed down.

The father than ran out the front door, smoke still pouring from the rifle barrel. Three other children, William 16, Mary 12 and Irma, 7 saw him and ran.

As the children ran, the father turned the rifle on himself. He was found dead under an apple tree, near the front porch, a bullet hole in his neck.

Four Dead In Huddle

Huddled together in a pool of blood on the floor of the hallway were the mother and her three youngest children, Florine 10, at her side in a corner Doris, 4, sprawled across her neck and against her mothers cheek, and Virginia, 2 lying on the mother's stomach. All had been shot in the head.

Another son, Richard 18, was at work in the engine house of the Pennsylvania railroad at Pitcairn where his father was a brakeman.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Night flying seems to be becoming more popular. Two airplanes passed over the city last evening, one traveling west and the other traveling east. Both seemed to be traveling in about the same lane, southeast to northwest.

For the third successive day, the weather has been clear and fair, and farmers and gardeners are hoping that the condition will continue for at least a few more days.

The old sycamore tree on the public square, that was cut down last year, refused to give up. A tuft of shoots protrudes from the top of the tree trunk, it was noted today.

Folks over on the nearby East Side have one advantage that residents of other sections of the city do not, Pa Newc discovered last night. The clock in the court house tower can be heard as it strikes the hours, over a considerable area in the East Side.

Earle's Endorsement Brings Third Term Idea Out Into Open

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Gov. George H. Earle's public endorsement of President Roosevelt for a third term brought into the open today a discussion that has been going on below surface in Washington for some months. Mostly it is Democratic discussion, although the Republicans are scarcely interested.

Naturally, the White House is silent on the question of whether Mr. Roosevelt will or will not be a candidate to succeed himself. Inquirers there are simply referred to the victory day speech of Mr. Roosevelt's last March in which he said: "My great ambition on January 20, 1941, is to turn over this desk and chair in the White House to my successor, whoever he may be . . ." He added, however, some thought significantly, that he first wanted the nation to be prosperous, happy, at peace, and going forward in progressive, Democratic government.

Now Confronted With Revolt

At the time Mr. Roosevelt made this speech, on March 4, there was only a faint rumble of party strife over his supreme court reorganization plan. Now, he is confronted with a full-blown revolt on the

Parkers Found Guilty By Jury

Famous Detective And Son Convicted Of Implication In Wendel Kidnaping

LIGHT SENTENCES WILL BE GIVEN

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., June 24.—Light sentences were predicted today for Detective Ellis H. Parker, and his son, Ellis, Jr., found guilty last night by a jury in U. S. District Court here of conspiracy in the kidnaping of Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton, N. J., lawyer, in February, 1936.

The verdict carried with it a recommendation of leniency. Judge William Clark, who will sentence the Parkers next Wednesday, had assured the jurors that such a recommendation would "carry great weight" in his sentence.

Under the law, Judge Clark may place the Parkers on probation or he may sentence them to anything up to life imprisonment. At the same time, he will pass sentence upon Murray Bleefeld, Harry Weiss and Martin Schlossman, co-defendants, who pleaded guilty to the kidnap-conspiracy indictment as the trial opened.

Abduction of Wendel and his forced "confession" to the Lindbergh baby slaying delayed for three days execution of Bruno Hauptmann for the crime.

Six Section Hands Of Central Vermont Railroad Mangled By Fast Express

(International News Service)

ST. ALBANS, Vt., June 24.—Bodies of six men, section hands of the Central Vermont railroad, were strewn along the tracks for a mile today when a New York to Montreal express train struck them.

The section hands apparently were standing and sitting on the northbound tracks watching a train pass on the southbound tracks. They were unable to hear the approach of the passenger train which ran them down.

The bodies were so mangled immediate identification was impossible. Railroad officials sought cause of the accident.

Zero Hour Here For Note Writer

All Restrictions Off In Hunt For Kidnaper Of Mrs. Parsons

STILL HOPE FOR HER SAFE RETURN

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 24.—Zero hour struck today for the writer of a note demanding $25,000 ransom for missing Alice Parsons.

Inspector Earl J. Connelly of the G-men announced all restrictions were off in the hunt but added he had "not entirely" given up hope for the safe return of the 38-year-old society heiress who vanished 13 days ago from her farm near Stony Brook, N. Y.

While he refused to say what steps he would take, it was clear from the actions of his men that the entire inquiry would begin all over again with the re-questioning of everyone in the Parsons household.

"The are no restrictions on the family," he said.

"Well," he was asked, "will you let them go to Europe?"

"That would be quite another matter," he answered grimly.

Meanwhile, G-men checked a story told by an unidentified, elderly couple that on the day Mrs. Parsons vanished they saw a car containing two women and a man on a highway near Stony Brook. One woman was driving, this couple said, while in the back seat the other woman was struggling with the man who appeared to be choking her.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS TO RESTORE HARMONY

Movement Also Reported As Seeking Decision Of Early End Of Congress

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Coincident with President Roosevelt's planned departure for Jefferson Island this evening and three days of uninterrupted conferences with house and senate Democrats, reports were current on Capitol Hill that congressional leaders hoped to swing an agreement for adjournment between July 15 and 25.

Seek Harmony

Agreements of any sort hinged on a restoration of Democratic harmony as a result of the week-end retreat to the Chesapeake Bay island.

The president's 1937 legislative program apparently hung in the balance. Floor leaders prayed anxiously they would know by Sunday night which bills Mr. Roosevelt demands action upon, and which may be carried over to next year's session.

Those organizing the Jefferson Island pilgrimage said 255 of the 330 house Democrats and 60 of the 76 senate Democrats had accepted invitations to sit on the long clubhouse porch and discuss with the president in relays such topics as "ships and shoes and sealing wax and cabbages and kings."

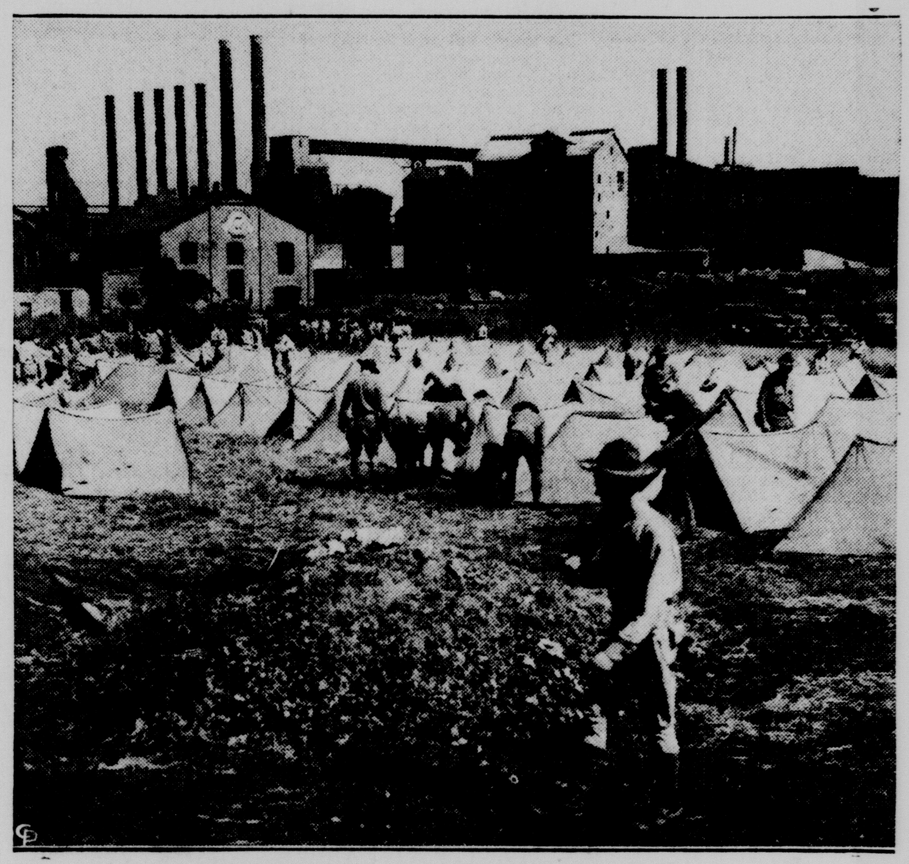

To Debate Grievances

White House aides said Mr. Roosevelt was prepared on Friday, Saturday and Sunday to debate any grievances or legislative ideas the individual members have on their minds. Cabinet officers and heads of such key agencies as WPA will be on hand to give the chief executive detailed information on any problems brought up in their bailwicks.

The president personally denied that settlement of the court reorganization issue was to be a major subject of discussion. Several promi-

Washington Prepares For Scout Jamboree

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—Scouts from New Castle and other Lawrence county sections who come to Washington for the National Jamboree of Boy Scouts will be housed in what is probably the most remarkable tent city ever erected.

The jamboree will commence June 30 and end July 9. But for many weeks now workers have been busy putting up tents, big tents, little tents, dining tents, tents for shower baths and other sanitary purposes. The tent city will house 25,000 scouts and it just naturally has to cover a lot of ground.

Tents For Miles

The tents are really scattered for miles. Scores of them are on the same side of the Potomac River as is the City of Washington. These are erected on baseball diamonds, golf courses, play grounds and public parks. Many are in the parkway immediately south of the White House.

Report 15 German Warships Massed Near Gibraltar

(International News Service)

VALENCIA, June 24.—Fifteen German warships are concentrated in the vicinity of Gibraltar, Spanish government sources reported today.

Fears regarding the reported massing of German ships were expressed among government authorities here as officials and diplomatic circles sought to discover what the Reich naval concentration may portend.

A government communique stated insurgent attacks on the Jarama sector and at Julian De Vagar and Huesca were repulsed by loyalist troops. The rebels suffered heavy losses, it was claimed.

Loyalist artillery was reported active on the northern front. Advices from Santander said a rebel battery at Colloate was destroyed and insurgent troops there were forced to abandon their positions.

Gibraltar, June 24.—Amid recurring reports of mysterious movements of German warships, the Reich cruiser Koln arrived here suddenly today from the east.

The vessel reached Gibraltar at 10:30 a. m. It was understod the Koln will depart tonight for an unknown destination.

The mayor summoned the mailers, who have been suspended by their International Union because of the unauthorized strike, to a meeting in council chambers, proposed the plan providing for a modified pay increase, and urged the men to return to work and permit resumption of publication by the Sun Telegraph, the Press and the Post Gazette.

The mailers retired to their headquarters and after several hours discussion rejected the compromise offer.

SEEK TO CURB TAX LOSSES

New Legislation Being Proposed

Commissioner Of Internal Revenue Proposes New Legislative Action

PERSONAL HOLDING COMPANIES TARGET

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Legislation to curb tax losses through personal holding companies—admittedly legislative—was proposed to the Senate-House Tax committee Wednesday by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering.

He cited only one case in which a name was bared, that of Cecil DeMille, famous motion picture director. DeMille won a tax fight in the courts.

In a statement prepared for presentation, reading of which was not completed, Helvering rapped the attitude of J. P. Morgan, the banker, on payment of taxes.

Helvering said, he will bare names of 17 personal holding companies to show how taxes are reduced or wiped out by the device.

Helvering was halted in the middle of his extended statement by committee adjournment. He estimated that millions have been lost in surtaxes which would have been paid if individuals had not formed personal holding companies.

Attitude Fairly General

"The atmosphere in which such schemes grow so rapidly," said Helvering, "is well illustrated by a recent statement appearing in the press in which Mr. J. P. Morgan is reported to have said, 'If the government doesn't know enough to collect its taxes, a man is a fool to pay them'.

"That attitude is fairly general. It stimulates both corporations and individuals to distribute circular letters, advertising their skill in enabling individuals to avoid taxes. There is now much literature on tax avoidance and an increasing number of concerns who are developing it into what may be termed a racket.

Congress, he said, has frequently legislated on the subject. In the tax bill passed only last year, congress prescribed different taxes on these companies. Experience has shown, he said, that the law should further be amended.

In the DeMille case, the motion picture director was upheld in the circuit court of appeals.

DeMille, Helvering explained, formed a company which paid him a salary less than he could earn as director. His company then sold his services as a director. DeMille was sustained in his contention that the company was accumulating a surplus to engage in future production of motion pictures.

GERMANY AND ITALY IN VIRTUAL BLOCKADE OF SPANISH SEAPORTS

and Itaily from the neutrality control scheme, Italian and German ships are not only maintaining their patrol around Spain's coasts, but are strengthening their naval forces off Spanish waters at the point of the blockade. International News Service learned.

The virtual blockade is being carried out in guise of an independent Italo-German control system, pending decision of the non-intervention committee on what to do about Italys' and Germany's withdrawal from the committee's control scheme. Neither Germany nor Italy withdrew from the committee itself.

U. S. To Ask Situation

United States ambassador Robert W. Bingham planned to call on foreign Secretary Anthony Eden this afternoon to ascertain the seriousness of the situation.

Eden also will confer with French Ambassador Charles Corbin this afternoon regarding Anglo-French steps on the non-intervention situation as a result of Italy's and Germany's withdrawal from the patrol.

Furthermore, there were indications both Germany and Italy oppose replacement of Italio-German warships by patrol ships of other powers in the committee's neutrality patrol around Spain.

Rome already has let it be known diplomatically that she is maintaining her warships off Spanish waters owing to the "existing state of insecurity in the Mediterranean." Germany has taken a similar attitude.

According to latest reports to the British admiralty, the German naval forces off Spain now are more powerful than ever and are steadily being increased.

Definite indications were that Berlin and Rome have no intention of permitting the Valencia government to take advantage of her temporary gap in the control scheme to rush arms shipments into Loyalist territory.

Meter Contract Given Approval

Three Members Of Council Vote In Favor Of Award Today

BUTLER OPPOSES; ALEXANDER ABSENT

Council cenvened in city hall today and by a vote of three to one, Councilman Alexander being absent, approved a contract between the Municipal Equipment company and the city for 500 or more Mark Time meters at a cost of $58.00 each.

Councilman Butler voted negatively.

The meters will be installed, possibly within the next few weeks, on a trial to last six months.

According to the terms of the contract the city will receive 15 percent and the company 85 percent of the deposits, until the company has been paid the cost of the meters.

Arrangements have been made whereby city engineers will install the meters, the company to pay the city $2.00 for each installation.

In expressing his nay vote, Councilman Butler said: "I still wish to make the same objection as I previously made. I believe you are buying the poorest meter at a higher price."

Butler said another meter and which he considered better could be obtained at a cheaper price, or $52.50.

Relative to the fact whether or not the one Butler referred to as better, drew from Mayor Charles E. McGrath the statement: "That is a matter of opinion."

Butler said he had previously expressed his objection and added: "I still think we are making a mistake."

Councilman J. M. Rice told Butler: "We are voting now on the contract."

Butler responded: "This is true, but I am expressing my disapproval." He added that he disliked to disagree with his colleagues.

"That is your right," replied the mayor.

The motion to approve the contract was offered by Councilman Rice and seconded by Councilman J. Leon Fink.

EARLE'S ACTION BRINGS THIRD TERM INTO OPEN

court bill, which has split the Democratic congress wide open; and he is faced with widespread opposition on other administration measures. So seriously is this party disaffection that tonight Mr. Roosevelt repairs to Jefferson Island, in Chesapeake Bay, for three days of handshaking, mollifying, back-slapping, and just plain politics with the 400-odd members of his own party in congress.

The warfare between the president and certain members of his own party, erstwhile New Dealers, has become fierce and bitter, especially since the majority report on the Supreme Court Bill. No president has been more fiercely assailed by members of his own party than was Mr. Roosevelt in that report, signed by a majority of Democrats. They not only assailed the plan itself, but they impugned his motives and questioned his good faith. That will be a hard breach to heal. One result has been to intensify Mr. Roosevelt's determination to put through his whole legislative program.

New Dealers Differ

New Dealers differ as to whether Mr. Roosevelt will be a candidate to succeed himself. Anti-New Dealers are grimly determined that he won't be, or, should he be, to defeat him in a straight-out party fight. They are not talking it publicly, but so bitter has the feeling become in some quarters that heated comment is heard privately in the cloak-rooms. Gov. Earle's outright endorsement only intensified the discussion.

In an effort to get a cross section of Democratic opinion on the question of a third term, a number of Democrats were approached, and the result was this:

Senator Burke of Nebraska, one of the leaders against the court plan, and opponent of many New Deal measures: "The president nas given us his own assurance that on January 20, 1941, he will settle down and enjoy life at Hyde Park. That is what he should do. Many precedents have been broken of late, but this one (third term) will not be broken."

A New Dealer who would not permit use of his name: "I do not think Mr. Roosevelt will be a candidate to succeed himself under any circumstances."

May Seek Third Term

Another New Dealer, who also preferred to remain anonymous: "Normally, I do not think Mr. Roosevelt will try for a third term. If he gets a substantial part of his program through by 1940 I am sure he will not. But if he doesn't: if the reforms he has proposed and to which he is committed are not enacted; if he feels he has not made good on the promises made in the campaign of '36, then I should not be surprised to see him run again as a matter of vindication."

Another merely said: "It's too early to tell."

All of which indicates that Democratic opinion is rather foggy as to Mr. Roosevelt's intentions.

As for the Pennsylvania governor's "nominating" Mr. Roosevelt at this stage of the game, the anti-New Deal Democrats were caustic.

"He reminds me of John Alden," said Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. "Why doesn't he speak for himself?"

Democrats of all persuasions regard Earle as an active candidate—provided Mr. Roosevelt isn't. As the first Democratic governor in Pennsylvania since the Civil war, he rates automatic consideration. In fact, the politicians consider that he launched his boom personally here a few weeks ago when he addressed the Southern Society's annual dinner. It was that kind of a speech.

Insurgent Army Ready For Drive Upon Santander

Up-To-Date Motorized Equipment Will Be Used By Rebels In New Advance

(International News Service)

HENDAYE, France, June 24.—A large Spanish insurgent army, with up-to-date motorized equipment, was ready today to resume the rebel drive on Santander, last important Basque stronghold on the Biscay front.

Advices received here said the rebel forces, spurred by their victory in capturing Bilbao, had completed arrangements for the drive and now only await orders to advance.

The insurgent forces are concentrated 12 miles west of the fallen Basque capital. Santander lies a little more than 30 miles away from them.

The rebel concentration consists of 65,000 men, 400 guns and hundreds of tanks and armored cars.

Meanwhile, President Jose Antonio De Aguirre of the Basque government was reported installed with his cabinet at the Hotel Real in Santander, where he is actively cooperating in arrangements for defense of the city.

"Our entire tax collection, I'd judge," the treasurer commented "runs 10 percent ahead of last year's."

The father had driven the boy to work an hour before he opened fire with the rifle. The other child, Samuel, 14, was visiting an uncle in Virginia.

"Irma and I were delivering milk to the neighbors," Mary related. "Mom and the others were up when we left and Richard had gone to work."

They were returning from the milk route when they heard the shooting. The mother and children were fully clothed. Last July 22 the family lost its home and all its furnishings in a fire and the father had made their new home out of a garage.

TO BUY MATERIALS

must cross the Potomac to find the bulk of the tents. Starting just across the river at the end of the Lincoln Memorial Bridge, the tents stretch southward along the stream in an unbroken line. Here they are hidden amid high weeping willow trees and American elms. It is a beautiful camp spot and one the young scouts will probably never forget.

View Across Potomac

From this portion of the camp the scouts may look across the broad, placid Potomac at Washington proper. They may plainly see such historic buildings as the tall Washington monument, gleaming white Lincoln Memorial, the old Post Office Department tower with its huge clock, and in the background the sprawling Capitol.

At night, the illuminated structures of these buildings are reflected in the river and the thousands of parkway lights dance and shimmer in the quiet ripples of the stream.

Mothers and Fathers may feel assured that their sons coming to the encampment will have a beautiful, healthful and well-managed camp home.

PRESIDENT WILL START CONFERENCE WITH DEMOCRATS

nent senators and representatives have indicated, however, that they will broach the subject of a compromise.

Compromise speculation on the court measure centered on a modified proposal to increase the supreme court membership by two rather than by six. Various approaches have been suggested. Some say they will urge a geographical limitation requiring the president to appoint one justice from each of the ten federal circuits, with a chief justice at White House discretion. Others are suggesting that the president either be held to appointment of only one supreme court justice in any given year, or that the date of enlargement be deferred until January, 1941.

Seeks Showdown

Mr. Roosevelt is represented by his friends as determined there shall be a showdown vote on the court issue. His closest political advisers think the 49-34 and 58-25 votes in the senate preventing efforts to rewrite the relief bill indicate an ultimate White House court victory. Some senate observers predict, on the other hand, that there will be a vote but that the president will be beaten.

The guest list at Jefferson Island is going to be given out piece-meal. Each of the three mornings, beginning Friday, reporters at Annapolis will be given the names of those senators and representatives who will voyage out to the retreat which such stalwarts as Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, and Senator Key Pittman, of Nevada, have converted into a Democratic club.

Germany Parades Eighteen Warships In Spanish Waters

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 24.—Germany, "compelled to maintain a strong naval force" in Spanish seas "in case of emergency," today paraded 18 warships in Loyalist waters.

Ready to fight against any possible leftist aggression, but not, it was affirmed, to enforce any blockade, the fighting craft continued their patrol even after Germany withdrew from the Spanish neutral control scheme.

"In view of previous Spanish Red attacks against German merchantmen such as the Palos," said well-informed quarters close to the Reich admiralty, "Germany is compelled to maintain a strong naval force in the Mediterranean and other Spanish waters to protect German shipping, also German property in case of emergency."

The under-dog has one great advantage. He is the only one who has nothing to lose by starting a fight

BRIDES SHARE HONORS AT DOUBLE SHOWER

Sharing honors at a double shower Wednesday evening were Mrs. Howard Bly, nee June Campbell, and Mrs. William McConnell, nee Margaret Campbell, cousins, when the former's sisters, Misses Lillian and Freda Campbell, entertained at their home on South Crawford avenue.

The occasion was planned most successfully, taking the honored ones by complete surprise. Each received an array of miscellaneous gifts to use in their homes, in behalf of the group surrounding them. The guest list was composed of Mrs. George Conway's Bible class and the Westminster Guild of Central Presbyterian church.

Informal pastimes claimed attention during the leisure hours, and afterwards, the hostesses, aided by Mrs. Doris Foley, served a dainty buffet lunch. Special participants who also assisted were Mrs. L. A. Campbell and Mrs. Newton Campbell, mothers of the two honorees.

Thirty or more were in attendance at this delightfully informal event.

Dinner At Castleton Honors Hovers' Wedding Anniversary

One of the loveliest and most delightfully appointed affairs of the month was the dinner given Wednesday evening in the private dining room of the Hotel Castleton by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark Wiggins of Harrisburg.

The event honored the latter's parents, Attorney and Mrs. Frank A. Hover, of 742 Croton avenue, this city, who are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

Table appointments were in yellow and gold, with a large bowl of roses, shading from pale yellow to deep bronze gold, for a centerpiece, while directly in front of the guests of honor was a large tiered wedding cake decorated in yellow and gold and topped with a bride and groom in miniature.

Place cards and favors were golden shells, attached to which with white satin ribbon streamers were sprays of valley lilies. The shells were filled with mixed salted nuts. Yellow and gold tones were also carried out in the menu as far as possible.

Mrs. Hover was presented with an arm bouquet of yellow roses by her daughter, Mrs. Wiggins. There were 12 guests, all members of the immediate family of Mr. and Mrs. Hover, with their pastor, Rev. Norris A. White, of the First Methodist church, of which they have been members for many years.

In addition to Rev. White, those present were the brother, sisters and their husbands of Mrs. Hover. Mr. Hover's only brother, B. K. Hover, who has been ill, was unable to attend.

Guests were: David D. Angell, Miss Jessie Angell, of 105 Richelieu avenue, and Mrs. Letitia Shaw, all of New Castle; Mr. and Mrs. William S. Bell of West Middlesex; Mr. and Mrs. James C. Sewall of New Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark Wiggins of Harrisburg.

Mrs. Wiggins, who was Marian Hover, is the only living child of Mr. and Mrs. Hover, a son, Walter Hover, having died many years ago during a diphtheria epidemic.

Mr. and Mrs. Hover were married in New Wilmington on June 23, 1887, by R. G. Ferguson, president emeritus of Westminster college. They went to housekeeping at East Brook Station, where they lived for one year. Mr. Hover taught the district school there.

In the fall of 1888 they moved to 738 Croton avenue, where they resided until 1894, when they built their present home at 742 Croton avenue. They have spent 49 years of their married life in New Castle.

Mr. Hover was graduated from Westminster college with the class of 1887 which this year also celebrated its golden anniversary with a 50-year reunion party at New Wilmington.

When Mr. Hover first came to New Castle he was employed as general manager of the New Castle Car Manufacturing company for several years. He studied law in the office of Judge J. Norman Martin and was admitted to practice and to the Lawrence County Bar association in 1893.

There was no reception planned at the home yesterday, but many friends and relatives from New Castle and surrounding towns called in person and by phone during the day to congratulate them and to wish them many more years of continued happiness. They received several hundred cards, telegrams and messages of congratulations.

Mrs. Wiggins plans to remain in New Castle until after the high school alumni reunion at the Cathedral on Friday evening, after which she will return to her home in Harrisburg. She was graduated with the class of 1913.

URGE EARLY END TO CONGRESS SESSION

ADMINISTRATION advisers who are urging an early end to this session of congress are exercising sound judgment. Little is to be gained by keeping the legislators at work during the hot months.

Having completed a minimum of business in the five and one-half months of their stay in Washington, the congressmen face an impossibly heavy schedule for the coming weeks. The proposal for wholesale packing of the supreme court, administered an epochal chastisement by the senate judiciary committee, remains for final disposition. The government reorganization bill, filled to over-flowing with controversial problems, is another measure that can't be finished in a week or a month.

These far-reaching bills are only two items on a calendar that is long and difficult. The measures containing essential provisions for raising American living standards, such as the wage-and-hour bill and the Wagner housing project, do not in all respects invite hasty passage. These, as most of the proposals in congress, should have thorough discussion and consideration before being made law. There is no worthwhile point in jamming complicated bills, however much they are needed, through house and senate, only to discover later that they have serious weaknesses and must be amended to be valid and workable.

Experience has shown that there is small reason to expect congress to devote itself enthusiastically to business during July and August. It is utterly inconceivable that house and senate could enact, with the consideration they unquestionably demand, all of the measures on the calendar.

DIVORCE TOO EASY IN STATE

Frank P. Patterson, president judge of Allegheny Common Pleas Court, has brought into the open reports often heard in connection with divorce litigation. Divorce laws are too easy, the jurist complains, rendering conditions "intolerable" and making that form of litigation "a close approach to the farcical."

It is common knowledge that there is comparatively no difficulty in severing the bonds of matrimony, in Pennsylvania or numerous other states. The ease with which divorces may be obtained has done much to undermine family life.

Perhaps Judge Patterson, now that he has made his opinions part of the public record, can be of service in making matrimony a more binding estate by seeking more stringent divorce laws.

DISCONTENT IN RUSSIA

Probably it won't be possible for us in America to know just what is happening in Russia until some time after it has actually happened; but on the face of things some profound wave of discontent must be surging across that country these days. How else is one to interpret the recurring executions, the mass arrests, the dismissals of hosts of once-trusted communists and the unexplained ruthlessness of the wide-spread program of repression.

It will be almost impossible to pass an intelligent judgment until all the returns are in, and the returns are coming in very slowly. But one must admit that according to all indications the Stalin government is meeting progressively greater difficulties in keeping the masses contented. Whether the discontent is with communism as such or with Stalin's peculiar brand of despotism, no one can say at this distance; but that such discontent does exist in a nation-wide and menacing form it is impossible to doubt.

SKY QUEEN RETIRES

The Graf Zeppelin has been retired to her hangar at Frankfort-on-the-Main, where the proud veteran of 590 flights, including 143 across the ocean, will be deflated and junked. Unsuited for helium, with which future German dirigibles will be filled, she has had a notable if unsung and unspectacular history.

Since her sister ship, the Hindenburg, went up in flames at Lakehurst a few weeks ago the day of the hydrogen-inflated dirigible has waned. The future of the dirigible itself, as a type of aircraft, is uncertain as heavier-than-air planes continue gaining in size, capacity and cruising radius. The Macon, the Shenandoah and other giant airships served a purpose, as did the Graf Zeppelin, before their sun set.

Out of all this experimenting—and it is still frankly that—may evolve a new air carrier— new in design, construction, rigidity, safety, dependability. The Graf Zeppelin, now grounded for the last time, after eight years, is the last of a line yielding the skies to a new order which all of them helped develop.

UNCLE'S DAY

We have a Mother's Day and a Father's Day, and almost every day is Children's Day or a Grandmother's Day, because these folk are also fathers and mothers. But what about Uncles? Aren't the telegraph companies missing a bet by not insisting on an Uncle's Day?

There has never been a time when an Uncle was not esteemed an asset. Not by chance was the patron saint of the United States called Uncle Sam. It is always the Uncle in the story who shows up with a box of candy, a watch, a baseball, or spending money, at the home of his nephews and nieces. Uncles spend all their spare moments doing good.

There is the Uncle at whose place one pawns the overcoat for ready cash, and there is the Dutch Uncle who sternly reproves ill-doing, and guides the young in the way they should go. There was Uncle Tom, with his cabin, Uncle Remus, Uncle Joe Cannon, Tristran Shandy's Uncle Toby, Uncle Wiggily, and many more, all good, sound men, big-hearted, excellent citizens.

Although we are strongly opposed to any more marked days to be celebrated, we submit that the noble Uncle has been shabbily neglected.

Distribution is our great problem. For example, there is enough repentance for everybody, but the wrong people have it.

A gathering of authors has voted "Gone With the Wind" a less significant work than "The Big Money." That would be Miss Mitchell's bank book.

A Los Angeles evangelist preached 21 hours, and a new endurance record to shoot at was rung up if someone will come forward with proof that he stuck it out.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELP FOR STUTTERING GIRL

While I was lecturing in Camden, N. J., a high school girl who had written me about her stuttering came to talk to me about her affliction. I asked her to give me the names and addresses of her teachers and parents, and to allow me to write them. Let me quote from some of these letters I wrote on her behalf.

"As a homeroom teacher, you are in a peculiar position to help her. I suggest that at some time when she is absent—or you might send her on an errand—you take the rest of the class into your confidence and beg them to try to put themselves into her place, therefore, to be very sympathetic and considerate of her. Perhaps you might prevail upon one or two socially minded members of the class to take a special interest in her, helping her to make more friends, and feel more secure and happy among her classmates."

To Health Teacher

"As a teacher of health, I am sure you are quite as much interested in mental health as in physical health. No doubt you are discovering ways of leading the classmates of Miss C. to be sympathetic toward her. May I suggest that you try to create an atmosphere whereby she will feel comfortable when she attempts to speak. Maybe you will like to work out with her some secret signals she would give you when she felt unable to speak, when you called on her. And please make her feel free to remain seated while she speaks, if that should be easier for her.

Need To Take Time

"Most of all, she needs to feel assured that when she attempts to talk in class, she can take all the time she wants, without the fear of show of impatience by anyone.

"If, by working together, we can help this young woman gain enough self-confidence to overcome this handicap, won't it be a glorious victory?

To The Mother

"I am very much interested in the problem of your lovely daughter. I am sure that if all of us work together we can help her. From what she writes me, you are very considerate and sympathetic parents. I think you were wise in suggesting dancing lessons for her. If she can spend more happy times with other young folk, she should gain more self-confidence. That is what she needs most.

"When E. stammers, try never to notice it. Act and look and breathe as if everything were going well. Try to get other people to treat her in like manner. Invite young folk, boys and girls, to your home for informal fun, and try to do everything you can to encourage this young lady."

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

YOU CARRY A LAMP

A man stood at his door and watched a lantern shining in the darkness, going away from him. The man who carried that light had guided the householder to his home in a dark night and now was returning to his own home.

And the man watching the light thought to himself that we are all like lanterns, shining for a little, and as soon out...His thoughts were mournful because he was old and unwell and thinking too much of his own going-out. But he might have given more thought to the blessed usefulness of the lit lantern and the many pathways it had illuminated, and less to the extinction of the lantern each man carries on his own way through life.

Because each man, each woman, even each child does carry a lantern. ...It may be only a little one that spreads its glow over a small space. And sometimes in a moment of perplexity and doubt and melancholy we may forget that light we carry.

But wherever we face the darkness unafraid, whenever we square our shoulders and walk steadily into the unknown, whenever we are assailed by selfish impulses and fight them down, whenever we do what we should and refuse to do what we weakly wish—then our light shines within us...And the meaning of that light is clear to all who see it.

It says to every man: "Behind that light is a human being who is standing firm, who is not whining, who is like all other men and is tempted as they are and suffers as they do—but you can depend on him to be strong and decent and good when the pressure is on and you need him at your side."

Thus for a little while your little light is a beacon to other men that heartens them and strengthens them and guides them. It may flicker and fail and it may be soon out, to shine no more in the darkness. But for a few short years it did push back the darkness—and the memory of its brightness may last forever in the lonely and frightened hearts of men.

While it looks as if the Republican party is not very active just now we only have to look back a few years to remember how dead the Dems were. About the time Hoover was elected. It is sure that politics will repeat itself.

A North Hill man was kidding his wife the other day after she had been shopping and did not buy anything. "All right," replied wifey, "why does a man say he has been fishing when he hasn't caught anything?"

Young men who enter the United States Naval Academy are not allowed to get married. They are evidently expected to keep their minds on their work.

ONE BORN EVERY MINUTE

An old racket is revealed by the Los Angeles Times:

A prosperous Chicago laundrymen complained to the police the other day that he had been all washed up by some slickers who had taken $100,000 from him in a deal that made him the owner of a machine for converting $1 bills into $1,000 bills. Very simple. All you have to do is to feed your $1 bill into the machine this way and it comes out down here in the shape of a yellow-back of the thousand-dollar denomination. See! Fair enough. What's the price of the machine? Only a hundred grand. And see how quick you can become a millionaire. So the laundryman buys the wonderful bill converter and sneaks it home in a suitcase. But imagine his embarrassment when he finds it doesn't convert worth a cent. Still he is only one of the hundreds of covetous gulls who, according to United States secret service reports, are handing over their good money to sleek sharpers at the rate of $50,000,000 a year.

But now wherever three are gathered together, they are phoning for a fourth to play bridge.

In one part of the west we are told a husband ties a stocking around his wife's chin if she is talkative. Perhaps a variation of the method of a sock on the jaw.

A cow chewed up a radio in a police car in Boston. Even cows don't care much for static.

The world is full of upright, smart good fellows, very few of whom are horrified by a split infinitive.

A bitter argument most always leaves a bad taste in the mouth.

When a man accused of murder in Beaver county was acquitted he kissed the hand of the judge. If he had been convicted he probably would have bitten the judge's flipper.

We read of a place where they fine automobile hornblowers a dollar for every honk. Some birds here in New Castle would lose their car on one trip down town if they were fined a dollar for every honk they pull—or push rather.

Life begins when you do as you please and ends when you sit and wait for another's decision.

"Do you take this cow," said the farmer to a butcher, "for butter or for wurst?"

A human head dug up in Oklahoma was solid bone. Bet that bird has descendants all over this country. It was supposed to be a head of some bird who lived in the prehistoric age.

RE ATTORNEYS

The story may not be new, but U. S. Judge Akerman of Tampa, presiding at the Karpis-harboring hearing in U. S. Court greatly enjoyed telling it. One of the attorneys in the case had just completed his address to the court, and opposing counsel arose to charge him with bringing in extraneous matters. "That reminds me of what an old attorney told a young one once," Judge Akerman said. He quoted the veteran barrister with this advice: "If the facts are with you, stick to the facts; if the law is with you, stick to the law; if both the facts and the law are against you, paw the air and bellow like the devil."

A gal named Perfect and a man named Practice were married recently. That's a real case of practice making perfect.

A lady riding in a Long Island train refused to pay the fare for her young son. The conductor claimed in court the boy had long pants on. The jury ruled the mother did not have to pay fare for herself on that grounds.

It is going to be a swell joke on the meek when they inherit a wagon load of bond issues.

TELLING THE PUBLIC

Publication in this state of delinquent tax lists is criticized frequently as needless expenditure of public money and purposely in fact.

One wonders what the critics would say to the Minnesota law requiring annual publication by the county of the names, tax rate of school districts, moneys and credit tax and the total personal property tax of each person, firm or corporation in the county division.

This is the sort of pitiless publicity in public affairs that does away with charges of inequalities and favoritism in the imposition and collection of the personal property tax.

But this is not the only secret the Minnesota law unveils through newspaper publication. An annual statement is carried by the press of the receipts and expenditures of the preceding year, together with an accurate account of the finances of the county at the end of the calendar year, including all debts, liabilities and assets.

The financial statement is not a mere capitulation of generalities. It is extremely detailed, with the name of every individual or firm that has received money from the county and the exact amount. Not an item is skipped, whether it be the fees paid jurors and witnesses or the disbursements for recording births and deaths.

It is all there for the citizens to read and understand. It costs money to do this. But each county of Minnesota, without doubt, is more than repaid in honesty of officials and efficiency in conduct of office.

A business manager was anxious to find a missing cashier. He gave the following description to the police: "Five feet, five inches tall, and about $5,000 short."

And there are people who don't know anything except what they read in the other fellow's paper.

In Washington the claim is made that a lot of Americans are investing their money in foreign corporations. They do that to save taxes. In this state manufacturers are leaving for other states to escape the high and complicated taxes.

A brittle thing is speech. So take

For anyone can make a break
But mighty few can mend it.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—There is an awkward corner in my living room that requires a cater-cornered effect. I have a chair there now but have been told that it is not appropriate. Can you give me some advice on this matter?—Mrs. B. A. M.

Answer—It is a mistake to develop the "cater-corner" habit but there are times when it is necessary to so place a piece of furniture.

Awkward corners of a room should, if possible, be obscured; but a chair is not appropriate; neither is a sofa nor a piano if the problem arises in your living room.

To obtain the proper effect, choose a large piece of furniture, such as a secretary desk, a cabinet or a tall cupboard.

Dear Miss Markel—I have a very good and interesting tapestry which is long and narrow. It fits perfectly over my mantelpiece but I cannot decide whether this would be the proper place for it. What do you suggest? G. G. O.

Answer—This would be an excellent place for your interesting tapestry and such position will show it advantageously. Place it low over your mantel and have no ornaments obstructing the view of it. An ornament such as a candlestick at each far end of the mantel will be sufficient decoration.

High Drama Played In Strike.
Mediators Meet In Cleveland.
Sees Quick Settlement Now.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

CLEVELAND, June 24.—High drama has been played here—quietly, but grimly and determinedly.

Behind the scenes—with reporters and photographers barred—mighty forces have played their ace cards.

And—although one who merely is peering through the curtains may be wrong—it seems as if the Committee for Industrial Organization, in which John L. Lewis is the leading actor, has won. Not because the C. I. O. is the C. I. O. or that John L. Lewis is John L. Lewis, but solely because the world is moving toward action by united groups.

The industrialists have seemed inept, to have recited the wrong lines, to have spoken and acted violently, instead of with soft accents before the federal government's mediation committee, they have seemed to assume roles unnecessary for their cause. They have appeared as the darksome, gruesome figures in this drama.

VITAL FORCES

Vital forces are at work, gigantic forces—and independent steel employers have talked in terms of minor melodrama.

On the other hand, John L. Lewis and his lesser stars have acted in quiet grimness, which adds a dignity and a might (in appearance at least). They have acted major drama. They have strode a mighty stage.

In this very element of conduct, or acting, they have dominated the stage.

At least, so it seems to this writer who returned from a vacation to glimpse this momentous drama first hand.

WRONG MOVE?

It seemed an ill-timed move for the independent steel companies to announce, while the mediation board was trying to get them to sit down with the C. I. O., that they would try to reopen their plants.

Public opinion immediately forced the governor of Ohio to declare military rule to prevent the certain bloodshed. This lined up the third governor against the steel corporations—Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, Governor Murphy of Michigan and Governor Davey of Ohio.

And Governor Horner of Illinois evidently would permit no further clashes in Illinois, for the union has played as its heaviest part the suppressed movies which show the Chicago police beating and shooting pickets running away from them. The deaths of ten pickets in Chicago and two in Youngstown are tremendous factors for the C. I. O. The union expects the La Follette civil liberties committee to show the suppressed news reel movies, clip by clip, at an open hearing.

A GUESS

As one sitting in a front row seat, I may guess that a settlement will be reached quickly now.

Perhaps even before this appears in your paper. Charles P. Taft, able young chairman of the mediation committee, intimated as much to this writer a few moments ago. He and his committee had just prevailed upon the steel manufacturers to confer again—and still again, until a settlement is reached.

Violence will pass from the scene.

MORE ABOUT COMPARISONS

Professors in Columbia University, as well as in Harvard, have contributed some rather communistic ideas to modern economic questions.

There are, however, some rational minds in the faculties of our institutions of learning. Professor Paul H. Nystrom, of Columbia, is one of the latter class. He answers those who criticise the amount of wages and says:

"Chain stores and variety stores require little skilled help. Merchandise carried varies little from year to year, being staple in character, and prices and policies are established and known to the buyer. What these stores do provide, in an unusual measure, is an excellent training ground for young people with high school educations who are not prepared for selling jobs requiring skill or special knowledge. During their training they are paid as well and perhaps better than they would be in any other field. And the records shows that a high proportion of them find the key that unlocks opportunities for them in department stores or specialty shops where experience is essential. Others go on to advancement within the chain and variety stores themselves.

"Another point that tends to throw wage comparisons out of line is that chain store statistics in most instances include only the wages paid store employes, excluding managers and assistant managers. Department store data, on the other hand, includes the wages of high-salaried department heads, buyers and others, as well as clerks.

It is probably true that in some instances employes of all kinds of stores are underpaid. But it is not true according to the best available data, that chain and variety stores pay less than other kinds of stores for the same kind of work. It is not fair to compare the wages paid a young, untrained beginner in a store where no advanced selling technique is necessary, and those paid a mature, experienced salesman in a shop where sophisticated sales methods are vital.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

STRENGTH

Strength for the task is what I ask,
Not quittance of the load.
He gains no pride who walks the wide
And well paved sunny road.

How do they pray who lie today
On the white cots of pain?
The days are long! God make us strong
That we may work again.

What are we told by all the old
When they at last retire?
We'd rather bear the long day's care
Than sit beside the fire.

There is no thrill in sitting still
And letting burdens fall;
Joy's in the fears that crowd the years
And mastering them all.

WASHINGTON, U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., (R), of Massachusetts, in his first senate speech, pleads for a job census:

Father And Son Hold Offices In Boy Scout Local Jamboree Troop

E. D. HAWK AND ROGER HAWK.

Like father, like son, is the old saying which holds true in the case of the Hawk family, as father and son march through Scouting together.

The father, Ernest D. Hawk, has been selected to head the Lawrence County Boy Scout Jamboree Troop, which will leave for Washington Saturday evening. His son, Roger, a member of the Jamboree Troop was selected as official Journalist of the troop and also given the privilege of corresponding with The News daily keeping the local parents and friends in touch with the doings of the troop in Washington.

Hawk, Sr., was chosen for the post of Scoutmaster of the troop through his outstanding ability for leadership and his interest in Scout work. Hawk, Jr., was given the appointment of reporter because of his distinction of having the only Merit Badge in the Jamboree troop for Journalism.

This badge is awarded to Scouts who show an eagerness for newspaper work, and through their writing of articles show their ability in this line of work. Roger won this badge for journalism on February 26, 1937.

On May 29, 1936, both of the Hawks won the coveted Eagle rank in Scouting. This rank is the highest which may be attained by a Scout or Scouter, anw was gained by the Hawks at the same time.

E. D. Hawk will have full charge of the Jamboree Troop from Lawrence County from the time they leave New Castle on Saturday evening, until they return here the following week, at the close of the Jamboree.

Roger will collect, and report the doings of the local troop to The News in daily articles.

FAYETTE MAN HAS 75TH ANNIVERSARY

On the evening of June 19, J. H. Lantz was pleasantly surprised at his home in Fayette, when his children and grandchildren gathered to help celebrate his 75th birthday.

Mr. Lantz is the son of Jonathan and Mary Kurtz Lantz. His father was one of the pioneer settlers of Lawrence county. In 1850, before there were any railroads west of Pittsburgh Mr. Lantz's father walked across the mountains from Mifflin Co., a distance of several hundred miles. He bought a farm in Hickory township, having to clear the land before any building could be done. This farm has been in the Lantz name ever since, now being occupied by the honoree.

Those out-of-town guests present to honor the birthday of Mr. Lantz included the following: J. L. Kaufman, New Wilmington Mr. and Mrs. John Lantz and daughter, Bertha, Volant; Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Lapp, and children, John, Margaret, LeRoy, Martha, Lois and Joe, of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Moose, and children, Laura, Gladys, Duane, Irvin and Dale, Volant, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart, Volant, Mr. and Mrs. David Helmuth, New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wigton and daughter, Jennie Lee, of Butler.

D'ELETTO-SIMONE WEDDING BEAUTIFUL

Open church in the Italian Methodist Episcopal, was held for the marriage Sunday, June 20, at 3:30 o'clock of Filomeno D'Eletto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ermen D'Eletto, of Huron avenue, to Martin Simone, son of Mrs. Michael Simone, and the late Mr. Simone of Steubenville, O.

Rev. J. Ruggerio and Rev. Alberti of Steubenville, celebrated nuptial mass before an assemblage of friends of the young couple.

Miss Asunda Giancola, church organist, played "At Dawning" during the ceremony, while the Lohengrin "Bridal Chorus" was heard as the bridal party walked slowly to the altar which was banked with palms and ferns and decorated with standards of blue delphinium, calla lilies and white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a lace entrain gown, trimmed with tiny buttons from the neckline to the waist in the back. The sleeves were fitted, and the bridal veil of tulle was held in place over the coiffure, with a cap of seed pearls, tied with orange blossoms. The cap was attached to the veil with a ruffle of tulle.

The bridal bouquet was very striking with its daisies of yellow disks and white colored rays and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Madelin D'Eletto of Philadelphia, a sister of the bride, wore a pale apricot chiffon gown, cut on peplum lines, with gathered sleeves. A floral coronet of white gardenias and silver slippers completed the ensemble. She carried a spray of Talisman roses and bronze daisies.

Ralph McGill of Cleveland, served as best man, and the ushers were Guy D'Eletto, brother of the bride, and Guerino D'Eulie.

A dinner was held uptown at 5:30 for the bridal party and guests. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, with a number of guests participating.

The newlyweds departed on a trip, the bride wearing for travel, a tailored suit of white congo, with harmonizing accessories, and a corsage of sweet peas and roses.

ABBOTT-LOUDEN WEDDING AT MARS

One of the most beautiful and impressive wedding ceremonies of the summer took place at noon Wednesday, June 23, in the United Presbyterian church at Mars, Pa., when Miss Cora Josephine Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Patterson Abbott, West Washington street extension, became the bride of Rev. John Ray Louden, of Mars.

Preceding the service, a half hour of nuptial music was furnished by the organist, Mrs. Mary McDonald of Mars. Miss Roberta Louden, sister of the groom, sang, "I Love You Truly," and to the strains of the Lohengrin "Bridal Chorus" the bridal party entered the church, which was completely filled with relatives and friends from New Castle and many distant points.

Rev. Louden and his brother Rolland Louden, who served as best man, were met at the altar by the bride and her father, who gave her in marriage.

Dr. S. L. Louden, father of the groom, who has been pastor of the Mars church for the past 26 years, heard the exchange of vows before an embankment of palms and ferns.

The bride, a very attractive girl, was never more beautiful than in her gown of ivory satin made on princess lines, with high neck, long train and full length tulle veil held in place by orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white rosebuds and baby's breath, tied with wide satin ribbon.

Miss Dorothy Abbott, of this city, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of aqua chiffon with coral trimming, and carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, and blue delphiniums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Roberta Louden of Mars, Miss Grace Brown, Pittsburgh; Miss Mary Ruth Baird, Vandergrift, and Miss Esther Emerick, Butler, wore floor length gowns of coral chiffon with aqua trimming and carried arm bouquets of sweetheart roses and blue delphiniums.

Those who served as ushers were Lester McDonald, Avalon; Paul Wohlgenmuth, Mars; Wilbur Kennedy, Pittsburgh, and William Hughes, Mars.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown of poudre blue embroidered net, with a corsage of Talisman roses, while the mother of the groom wore a floor length gown of white lace and corsage of sweetheart roses.

Following a congratulatory period, a wedding dinner of beautiful appointments was served to the families and a few close friends at the Duffmont Tearoom in Zelienople. The bride's table which seated eighteen guests, was centered with a large wedding cake topped with a wedding bell ornament and on either side were large bowls of blue delphiniums and Talisman roses.

Late in the afternoon, Rev. and Mrs. Louden left by automobile for a trip of unknown destination. For traveling, Mrs. Louden wore a suit of luggage tan with beige accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Louden, who was graduated from Union high school in the class of 1930, and from Grove City college in 1934, has been a member of the faculty of the high school at Mars for the past three years. Rev. Louden was graduated from Westminster college in 1929, taught music in the Mars school for two years, and on May 13, was graduated from Pitt-Xenia Seminary in Pittsburgh.

Upon their return the young couple will be at home to their friends at Hickory, Pa., where Rev. Louden is pastor of the United Presbyterian church.

Showman Starts On Shoe String

Will Morrissey Leaves Acting Ranks To Produce Some Great Hits

JOCK WHITNEY LATEST ANGEL

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 24.—Of all picturesque shoe string producers Broadway has nurtured none who has enlivened the Rialto lore with so many rollicking tales as Will Morrissey. He has literally started a Broadway production and held it together with nothing but a $10 bill.

O. O. McIntyre

An actor himself, indeed a versatile comedian, he likes nothing better than to collect a group of hungry actors and grub-stake them. Most of his quixotic efforts, it is true, have been flops, but not all. He bank-rolled The Gorilla whcih rolled up profits of $100,000.

He has whipped a show into shape in five feverish days and started out gloriously optimistic on a barn storming trip that would often wind up on some dreary depot platform with the village sheriff in command of the trunks, scenery and any other negotiable assets.

But he comes back to Broadway, smiling and chuck-a-luck with a fresh crop of ideas., And with all his vicissitudes he manages to appear snappily dressed. Recently he became general manager for Billy Rose but the Rialto expects him back. He's a trouper to the core.

Young Jock Whitney is considered at the moment the most generous theatrical angel. Although he has become something of a burnt-child-afraid-of-the-fire, he can still take a socking and go on his merry way because of enormous wealth. But his efforts have not all been losses and he has had his fun along with the headaches. His biggest loss was in a Peter Arno show opening and closing in one night. During his active years the late Otto Kahn was the most accessible of angels. He was unusual in that he never expected anything but a loss—and that was mostly what he got.

News comes back to Broadway of Wilda Bennett, once one of the alluring musical comedy stars and a toast of the Rialto. Today she has swapped the fashionable togs that distinguished her for the housekeeping gingham and is living with her husband, a cost engineer, in the heart of the Kettleman Hills in California . Her home is a frame cottage on the single street of a topsy turvy oil field town. She does her own work, attends the community gatherings, watches the sunset on the porch in the evening—and writes friends she was never so happy.

The most aristocratic of the wash room boys is Bill at The Colony. He has been there 13 years. His job includes checking hats and he never gives out a check . Bill knows everybody of social importance not only in New York but in such surrounding cities as Boston, Philadelphia and Washington. Many a well dined patron has stopped in to see Bill on the way to the theatre, received his magic formula he mixes so quickly and has thus been able at times to know what is going on on the stage before the close of the second act. Because those he serves are largely among the wealthy, he has been on the receiving end of many extravagant tips. The top being a $100 bill for taking care of a straw hat during the luncheon hour. That was, of course, before what Mike Hogg calls the "unbooming."

A New York chemist recently introduced to the dieting public a butterless butter—a fatless substance that looked and tasted like the real thing but was devoid of calorie values. The same dietitian now announces a starchless flour self rising and designed for those who crave bread but fear the starch in it. The world will now await breathlessly a spinachless spinach.

New York's immensity is sometimes illustrated by it amazing indifference. The other day, for instance, I passed the block in East 50th street where the model, Veronica Gedeon, her mother and boarder were victims in a triple murder. I thought of looking at the apartment building where the tragedy took place but wasn't certain of the number. So I asked a man on a nearby stoop. He thought it was 316 but was not sure. "It happened two months ago," he said.

Thingumbobs: Julius Whitmark, music publisher, was once a boy tenor with Primrose and West's minstrels...Rex Cole has three personal chauffeurs....Variety places Major Bowes' income as an entertainer at $1,500,000 a year, the all time record. ...He now leads all in listeners... Manuel Quezon of the Philippines bought $5,000 worth of haberdashery at a crack on a recent New York visit....Paul Whiteman is building a home near Amon G. Carter's in Ft. Worth, Texas.

Whenever I feel a slight urge to stir my lazy bones, swing about the golf course, visit a bowling alley or such I am always comforted in my hesitancy by the philosophy of William Allen White. He once told a friend he took all his exercise being pall bearer to his friends who were physical culture addicts.

Telephone Story Is Told To Kiwanians

"The Development of the Telephone" was the subject of the enlightening talk that John C. Mott, representative of the commercial department of the Bell Telephone company here, gave before the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club at The Castleton yesterday.

The club heard final plans announced for its Ladies' Night party at the New Wilmington hotel on Monday evening, June 28. John R. Hodge is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

CHRIST CHURCH

Do you know that Christ church, where Washington, Franklin, Adams and other American patriots worshipped, in Philadelphia, is opened to visitors?

Christ church is situated on Second street, between Market and Arch streets. It is open every day, including Sundays, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. In the adjoining graveyard lie buried Robert Morris, some of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and military leaders of the Revolution.

The proof of friendship is not what he says to you but what he says to others when you aren't around.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Treasurer C. C. McKibben stated today that June is the last month in which citizens may pay their 1937 city taxes at face because one percent penalty will be added July 1. June also is the last month in which mercantile tax may be paid at face. Five percent penalty will be added July 1. He added that 1936 city taxes not paid will be filed with the city solicitor July 1. School taxes for this year may yet be paid at a one percent discount before August 1. So far taxes paid for 1937 for the period up to today surpass the payments for the same period of last year.

From now until after Independence day, July 4, rolls by, police will be bothered by irate citizens demanding that explosion of fireworks be stopped. Annually such complaints reach police because there is an ordinance on the city books which say that no fireworks shall be displayed, possessed or discharged. However, with merchants outside the city selling fireworks to city folk who journey to the outside the city stands it is rather difficult for police to enforce the ordinance. Several years ago a representative of fireworks makers attempted to argue council into repealing the ordinance. Protests by citizens resulted in council taking no repeal action.

BOY SCOUTS IN ACTION.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 24.—Pedestrians wondered what was going on these days when small groups of Boy Scouts clustered on street corners in this busy metropolis and more or less opened general observation camps. Note books in hand, the Scouters seemed to be busy all the time. Finally the truth came out. It's traffic-counting time and the Scouts were helping city officials determine which was the busy corner in Pittsburgh.

TREMENDOUS PEACH CROP IS EXPECTED

HARRISBURG, June 24.—A 1937 peach crop in Pennsylvania of 2,904,000 bushels, an increase of 2,328,000 bushels over 1936 and an increase of 1,089,000 bushels over the 1931-1935 average, was predicted today by J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture, on the basis of a Federal-State Crop Reporting Service survey.

Bloom generally was the heaviest in years, and the set of peaches is uniform and promising.

Last year the crop was 27 per cent of normal on June 1 and this year it is 84 per cent of normal. In the ten years from 1926 to 1935 the peach crop averaged 54 per cent of normal.

Explains New Fire, Panic Act

Important Safety Measure Enacted By Legislature Recently

NEW LAW HAS TEETH IN IT

HARRISBURG, June 24.—One of the most important safety measures enacted during the recent session of the legislature was the Fire and Panic Act which is administered by the Department of Labor and Industry, Ralph M. Bashore, secretary of the department, said today.

"The general public is little aware of the importance of this measure," Bashore said.

"Through experience the department learned that certain corrections were needed for the protection of our citizens in their places of employment and in their homes. We found that under the present law the department was limited in its authority to close any public building which had been found to be structurally unsafe for occupancy. As a matter of fact the department had no jurisdiction whatsoever in the closing of buildings for structural defects even though that particular building might have been deemed positively dangerous.

"Under the new law which will be put into effect immediately authority is given the department to recommend the closing of any building until it is deemed safe by competent building authorities."

The new law relieves the department from responsibility for drafting the standards of construction for certain miscellaneous structures, which existing provisions have proved to be impractical. It also allows the department some discretionary power in permitting small two-story buildings to be constructed without the necessity of an interior fire tower. At the present time all such buildings are required to have an interior stair tower which is completely enclosed and in many cases this has resulted in a hardship.

Pittsburgh City Autos Must All Be Identified

Old City Ordinance Finds Some Of High Officials Breaking Law

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 23—Pittsburgh's mayor, two councilmen and the health and works director were recently discovered breaking an old city ordinance.

The ordinance is one requiring all city automobiles, except those of paymasters, be "lettered conspicuously on both sides of the body."

It all started when Andrew Frazier, assistant superintendent of building inspection, complained vehemently at having his city car identified. It was then, an old law was discovered by the controller's office, passed in 1912, making it compulsory for all city automobiles to be identified as such.

Councilman P. J. McArdle and William A. Magee, who was mayor at the time apparently forgot the legislation they helped to pass.

Others guilty of violation of the 1912 city ordinance were Mayor Cornelius D. Scully, health director I. Hove Alexander and works director Frank M. Roessing.

City Controller James P. Kerr, who was, also, a member of the 1912 council, said:

"It was put through to help stop joy-riding around the countryside. At the time there was only one car."

Now it looks as though all city cars will be "branded" unless council kills, or makes some changes in the existing law.

Thought to have been disposed of by court order, the "ham bone battle" between Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard and the county commissioners was re-opened again when counsel for the sheriff filed exceptions to the court order of 30 cents per day per prisoner.

The fight started when the commissioners refused to pay an accumulation of bills for meat, groceries and other necessities. The sheriff asked for an order compelling them to pay, got it, the order was appealed, a hearing was held, and the order changed to a per diem basis of 30 cents. Now the sheriff appeals that.

In his exceptions he says the sheriff is entitled to his salary and nothing more and that if there was a surplus in the thirty cent allowance, he could not keep it.

He further asserts that he does not understand just what he should buy and what the commissioners should buy and that if he is expected to buy everything the 30 cents will not be enough. He further avers it is impossible to feed, clothe and care for prisoners at a thirty cent allowance. And so now we'll have another hearing.

Two suits for $5000 each have been filed in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar against Clarence M. Cotton of 907 West Washington street. One suit is filed by Martha M. Smith of 7 West Garfield avenue and the other by Helen McCormick of 803 DuShane street. Apparently both actions arise out of the same occurrence. Both suits allege that on May 25, 1936 they were haled into the court of Squire Charles W. Martin of Boardman, O., on a charge of destroying property, against the laws of Ohio. They were arrested, had to furnish bail and went through a hearing in which the squire discharged them. The arrest embarrassed and humiliated them, they claim to the extent of $5000 each.

Bertha M. Richardson of New Castle files a petition for a divorce in the prothonotary's office against her husband William J. Richardson now of Johnstown, Pa. They were married April 30, 1919. Desertion is charged.

Joseph L. Fisher files an attachment against John H. Court and the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy Company garnishee, with instructions to sieze any property of the defendant in the possession of the garnishee.

Peoples Bank of New Castle files an action to revive and continue a lien against Harry L. Galbreath for $1370 with interest from June 17, 1937 and attorney's fees.

Pearson Brick Company files an action against J. A. McCandless to revive and continue a lien of $813.96 with interest from June 28, 1937.

W. C. Brandon files a suit against Roy McElwain of Ellwood City for $986.16 alleged to be due in commissions for selling automobiles for the defendant.

Sheriff Pritchard is a busy landlord again. After the sentence court of Tuesday he received a big batch of guests, the enrollment being 50 at the present time. Fourteen of them are women.

The county commissioners on Wednesday awarded a contract to the Castle Stationery Company for a duplicator at their price of $585. It was the only bid.

Summer-Dulled Hair Becomes Radiant With This Thrilling Shampoo

NOT SOAP—NOT OIL

It rids hair shafts of beauty-clouding perspiration and dust . . makes highlights dance and sparkle

It's no wonder women everywhere are raving about this amazing new liquid shampoo—as a beautifying aid especially beneficial during summer. For it gives your hair a thrilling new gleam even during hottest summer days when hair becomes dull, matted and sticky from dust and perspiration. Yes, a single application makes summer-dulled hair a radiant, glistening halo.

Look at the girl above. See what a difference it makes when you use it. So try it soon—see how beautiful your hair really can be all summer long.

Just how this unusual shampoo works these miracles is a new scientific secret. It isn't oil, it isn't soap—it isn't anything you've heard of before. Scientists have brought us something brand-new; a shampoo so different that they've patented the process by which it is made. Magically quick and easy to use—a boon in summer when frequent washing is needed. You simply wet your hair, shake on a few drops and instantly you get a glorious, billowy lather. Five times more lather than soap in hardest water. Lather so neutral—being neither acid nor alkaline—that it is ideal for either oily or dry hair. You rub it briskly into the hair, rinse thoroughly—and you're through.

"What?" you say, "no special rinses; no vinegar, lemon or after-rinses to 'cut' the lather?" No—they are not necessary—just a thorough dousing in clear water! That's the marvelous part. Drene cannot leave unrinsable film on hair to cover up natural lustre as ordinary shampoos do. Your hair is left radiant, silky, smooth. Even dull, bleached or dyed hair becomes more brilliant, more natural looking after a Drene shampoo. More amazing, embarrassing flakes of dandruff disappear with a single washing, leaving the scalp scrupulously clean. Tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau. Women who have used it for months rave about the beauty and health their hair possesses—and have found its thorough cleansing is the quickest, best way to a healthy head of hair. Your scalp can really nourish the hair properly, when cleansed the Drene Way, which simply calls for a weekly shampoo with Drene, and a few minutes of daily scalp massage and brushing of the hair. Then it glows with new life and lustre.

Procter & Gamble make this marvel, and you can buy it in various sizes at all drug, department, and ten cent stores. Only half a tablespoonful for a perfect shampoo. The most economical and beautifying shampoo you have ever used. Try Drene at once. Buy the large size. It costs less per shampoo.

ALL TIME HIGH SEEN FOR U. S. GAS TAX BILL

Billion Dollars 1937 Prediction

Petroleum Industries Committee Sees All Former Records Fall

FIRST GAS TAX WAS LEVIED IN 1919

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 24.—An all-time high of $1,000,000,000 for the 1937 gasoline tax bill of the nation's motorists was predicted today by the American Petroleum Industries Committee.

This will result, the committee reported, from the increased automobile ownership, chiefly among families with modest incomes, greater gasoline consumption, more extensive use of motor vehicles, and the federal levy on gasoline, which increased tax costs about 25 per cent.

Revenue Is Heavy

Remarkable expansion in ownership and use of motor vehicles during the past few years is producing an avalanche of revenue from gasoline taxes, the committee found, and tends to make possible early reduction in excessive gasoline tax rates without unnecessarily curtailing highway financing. The estimated billion-dollar gasoline tax bill of 1937 is compared with income of about $1,000,000 in 1919, the first year the tax was levied.

The 1937 gasoline tax bill of the average motor vehicle will be about $32, it was estimated. Since more than half the motorists in the country earn less than $30 a week, the taxpayers will be required to work from one to two weeks to pay their gasoline taxes alone.

The committee estimated more than 30,000,000 man-weeks of labor will be required to pay the motorist's colossal gas tax bill, equivalent to an entire year's labor of 600,000 men.

Gasoline taxes in the United States last year amounted to $872,952,000, an increase of 11 per cent over 1935. Virtually all states report substantial increases in gasoline tax collections this year, the committee reported.

No admission is charged for admission to the field and free parking will be provided. Passenger flights in both open and closed ships will be featured.

GUM PARKING PLACES

(International News Service)

POINT BARROW, Alaska—Latest Arctic fashion note: Teachers in the Eskimo school here noted that each girl had a small, triangular pocket sewed on the top of the hood to her snowshirt. Inquiry developed that the pockets are parking places for chewing gum, when not in use. Slightly-used gum will freeze into a hard lump and will not stick while awaiting further service, the youngsters said.

Two Suspected Slayers Slain In Gun Battle

Denver Detectives Kill Two Suspected In Slaying Of Nebraska Sheriff

ROOMING HOUSE SCENE OF BATTLE

(International News Service)

DENVER, June 24.—Two men, tentatively identified as Ira Tate and S. J. Wilson, suspected slayers of Sheriff L. E. Smoyer of Boone county, Nebraska, were shot and killed by Denver detectives today when they resisted arrest.

Detectives went to a rooming house a block and a half from police headquarters on a tip that suspects in the Nebraska slaying had taken refuge there.

The officers were greeted by gunfire when they entered the room. They returned the fire and fatally wounded the suspects.

Sheriff Smoyer was found dead in a hayfield 17 miles north of Albion, Neb., last Friday. Constable William Wathem of Albion, who had accompanied the sheriff to a farm in that vicinity to arrest two suspicious-acting men also was shot, and seriously wounded.

Mine Accident Is Investigated

Richard Fennick Crushed Between Coal Car And Wall By Runaway Cars

Coroner Orville Potter completed an investigation into the death of Richard Fennick, of R. F. D. No. 1, Volant, Wednesday afternoon. Fennick died in the Mercer Cottage hospital at 10 a. m., Wednesday, from injuries sustained when he was crushed between a loaded mine car and the wall of a passage.

Fennick, who was employed as a driver, was bringing out a car load of coal with a mule, when a string of cars, which had been placed on the main track to be hauled from the mine, broke loose when they were bumped by an electric engine, and ran into the car which he was bringing out, crushing him between the side of the car and the wall. The mule escaped injury, it was stated.

In Mr. Fennick's family are his wife, Bessie Williams Fennick, a son and daughter, Russell Fennick, and Mrs. Paul Duffy, both of Ellwood City.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of his brother, George Fennick, near Brent, with Rev. H. H. VanCleve of the North Liberty Presbyterian church in charge. Interment will be made in Plaingrove cemetery.

Alumni Reunion To Occur Friday

Indications Point To Large Attendance Of High School Graduates

GOOD PROGRAM HAS BEEN PLANNED

All arrangements for the annual reunion of the New Castle High School Alumni have been completed president Paul F. Butz, announced this morning, and only the cooperation of the members in turning out for the occasion remains to make it the most successful event of its kind which has been held in years. The reunion takes place in The Cathedral, Friday evening.

The committees in charge have worked hard for the past two weeks, perfecting plans for the event, and urge those expecting to attend to secure their tickets and make reservations by this evening so that the committee will know how many to prepare for.

Dinner At 6:30 O'clock

Dinner will be served in the dining room at 6:30 o'clock following which the program will take place in the auditorium. A splendid program of entertainment, featuring some of the finest talen of the high school has been arranged under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff, of the high school faculty.

There will also be a short speaking program, followed by a business session, when officers will be named and reports will be submitted.

The balance of the evening will be spent in dancing, a splendid orchestra having been engaged for the occasion. Arrangements have been made for the comfort of the older members of the Alumni Association, and easy chairs will be placed in the entry ways leading from the dining room to the ball room, where they may sit in ease and visit while the younger members dance.

Among the distinguished alumni members who will be present for the occasion are Judge David Jenkins, of Youngstown; Almon Shaffer, director of the Cleveland Exposition at Cleveland, Alex Fox, assistant football coach at Pitt University, and a number of others, who will be presented to the group at the gathering tomorrow evening.

"People used to be more honest" means, "I used to think everybody honest when I was young and inexperienced."

The English pay their debts. We see where King George has made Baldwin an earl for kicking out his brother.

But let us note for the record that a lot of Americans abdicate and give up all authority for love.

Plant Closing Brings Protest

Citizens Protest Against Plant Closing At Johnstown, Pa.

WORKERS SEEK TO RETURN TO JOBS

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 24.—A citizens' protest against the closing of Bethlehem's Cambria plant here through imposition of modified martial law was being organized today.

Headed "We Protest!" full page advertistments were inserted, at a cost of $60,000, in 25 metropolitan papers from Chicago to Bosotn. At the same time an appeal was made for funds with which to carry on the advertising campaign.

The advertisement, inserted by business leaders, read:

"We are not arguing for or against unions or steel companies, but in defense of two fundamental American liberties—right of local self-government and right of every worker to pursue his occupation peaceably."

Idleness of the 15,000 workers employed at the closed Cambria plant has stopped a $500,000 weekly payroll in Johnstown.

"If you are a Pennsylvanian, write Governor Earle," the newspaper advertisements, sponsored by the Johnstown citizens' committee and the steel workers' committee, read. "If not, write your senator or congressman."

The steel workers committee represents Johnstown mill workers who seek to return to their jobs. The citizens committee is composed of business and civic leaders.

In addition to the advertisement, "loyal" workers of the Cambria plant gathered 4,300 names on petitions signifying a willingness to return to work if Governor Earle will open the mills. It was expected by leaders of the "loyal" group that 10,000 names will be obtained by the end of the week.

Meanwhile, the two committees opened headquarters here from where all their activities will originate.

The ideas of economic cranks would be just dandy if all of us could get a living by being economic cranks.

October Is Called Marriage Month

(International News Service)

BERLIN.—October — not Spring or Summer, as is usually supposed—is the most popular time for weddings, according to statistics published here.

Next in popularity comes April, then May and last of all is January.

Figures show that in October last year 5,223 marriages out of the year's total of roughly 42,500 weddings were performed in Berlin—a percentage of 12.3.

Next followed April with 4,624 marriages or 10.9 per cent, and May with 4,251 marriages.

Months with important public holidays were also preferred. During December, for instance, 3,978 couples married.

January, the least favored, had only 1,961 marriages or 4.6 per cent of the year's total.

THIEF GETS COLD FEET

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash.—Chief of Police William Sears received a telephone tip to look in his front yard. He did, and found in a bucket beneath a hedge money order blanks that could have been cashed for a maximum of $80,000. The blanks were stolen from the Spanaway, Wash., post office five years before. Several months earlier, on a similar tip, Sears found $250,000 worth of the blanks hidden near a golf course. None ever was cashed.

NEW "MEANEST THIEF"

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O.—Current version here of the "meanest thief" is the person who stole the bicycle on which the Rev. E. R. Stafford of Ashland M. E. church makes his calls on parishioners. Rev. Stafford, two years out of Yale divinity school, used the bicycle for all personal transportation.

WAR-HORSES PENSIONED

(International News Service)

VIENNA—Veteran war-horses will be decorated and will receive a sort of old age pension in Austria.

The movement to provide the surviving horses of the former imperial army with shelter and feed them for the rest of their lives from public funds, is probably connected with the revived military spirit in Central Europe.

SPECIAL DYE PERFECTED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Hungarian chemists have developed a special dye called "contrahelios" which protects against the sun's rays, it is reported to the American Chemical society. The application of a layer of this dye on window panes filters the destroying ultraviolet rays.

Seeks Rancher Able To "Work Athlete Hard"

Seeks Extra Hard Work For 20 Year Old Athlete During Summer Months

(International News Service)

BOZEMAN, Mont.—Twenty years ago this item probably would not have made the news columns but recently the Bozeman chamber of commerce received a letter from Ernest D. Davis, of Madison, Wis., asking them to find a rancher who is willing to "work a 20-year-old athlete hard" and if he'll do this he can have the lad plus his board and room from June 15 to Sept. 15.

But Davis wanted it understood that the rancher would work the six-foot one-inch boy, "who neither drinks, smokes, nor swears, real hard. No dude ranchers considered."

He wanted the youth sent home in good physical condition and because he knows the youth would be but "half-a-cowhand," he'll pay his room and board and laundry.

The older generation says this sort of thing was common twenty years ago, and therefore would not have made the news columns.

WIDEST STREET IN WORLD

(International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—This city shortly will boast the widest street in the world—the Avenida Nueve de Julio—construction of which was started recently. Cutting straight through the heart of the city of Buenos Aires, from north to south, the new street will be one hundred and forty meters wide; that is to say about twenty meters wider than the Bois de Boulogne, in Paris. Office buildings extending over a distance of thirty-four city blocks were expropriated at a cost of more than 120 million pesos to make way for the street.

The quickest way to develop humility is to get the notion that you can outsmart the stock market.

List Of Nearly 100 Personal Holding Companies Given To Probers

COMMITTEE WILL RESUME TUESDAY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A list of nearly 100 personal holding companies, with names of many persons prominent in American business, was given to the senate-house tax investigating committee today.

The list was partially analyzed by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering and aides in an effort to show that the government loses millions of dollars in tax revenue through formation of these companies.

Commissioner Helvering conceded the method is legal—the companies bear taxes graduated up to 48 per cent—and said that the list was selected "at random" from more than 4,000 such cases.

Among the principal owners of personal holding companies named were: Former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon, Robert P. Scripps, E. W. Scripps, Roy W. Howard and W. W. Hawkins, publishers; Thomas W. Lamont, name of a partner of J. P. Morgan and Co.; Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., name of the head of General Motors; Fred Fisher, Detroit manufacturer; J. J. Raskob, financier; Pierre DuPont, industrialist; Jacob Ruppert, brewer; Ailsa Mellon Bruce, daughter of Andrew Mellon; Pauline DuPont, Mrs. Ethel H. DuPont, and William Dewart and wife, New York publisher.

Helvering maintained that owners of personal holding companies pay less taxes than individuals with big incomes and that the law should be changed.

The committee, after hearing Helvering, adjourned until Tuesday. Further examination of the history of personal holding companies is planned. More names may be presented to the committee.

Girdler Called Before Probers

Will Testify Before Senate Post Office Committee At Washington

TO GIVE VERSION OF MAIL TROUBLE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The first phase of the senates investigation of the steel strike got under way today. Tom M. Girdler, chairman of the board of the Republic Steel Corporation, was called before the senate post office committee to state industry's side of the controversy.

A similar investigation will be started by the senate civil liberties committee June 30. Chairman LaFollette (P) of Wisconsin, announced public hearings will be held on the Memorial Day labor riot at the Republic's South Chicago plant in which ten persons were killed and scores of others injured.

Girdler was summoned before the post office committee to give his version of the post office department's refusal to send special packages of food, clothing and medicine to loyal workers inside his picketed plants at Warren, Niles and Youngstown, O. He will be given the opportunity to answer the charges of Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, an affiliate of the CIO, that he and other independent steel company officials initiated the violence in the strike.

Girdler was invited to testify by Senator Bridges (R) of New Hampshire, who had wives of steel workers testify their packages had been opened, inspected, and returned to them by picket line leaders.

Postmasters also admitted they had refused such mail, rather than "to invite violence by forcing it through picket lines."

Warrants For Pickets

Testimony developed at previous hearings of the post office committee resulted in warrants being issued for six pickets on charges of interfering with the mails in Warren and Youngstown. Announcement of the issuance of the warrants in Cleveland was made by Attorney General Cummings.

He said the "entire law enforcement resources of the federal government will proceed against any interference with the mails."

"My department will take action in all cases which 'nvolve obstruction of any mails which the post office sees fit to deliver," Cummings added.

— AND WILL CONTINUE EACH AND EVERY DAY THEREAFTER UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE —

OUR REASON FOR THIS CLOSE-OUT SALE TO THE PUBLIC

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER — FACTS —

READ EVERY WORD OF THIS STATEMENT

In the face of rising wholesale and retail prices, we bought heavily for spring and summer in anticipation of giving the public the lowest possible prices, as has been our custom since establishing this store. Now, due to the backward spring season, we find ourselves heavily overloaded with merchandise due to these tremendous purchases. For this reason we find it necessary to convert this entire stock into cash, regardless of cost or loss, in order to take care of our immediate obligations.

YOU ARE NOW FACE TO FACE WITH ALL THE FACTS

Everything in this complete stock of high-grade men's wear is marked down in a way that all New Castle will long remember . . . sale involves the entire and complete stock of Shirts, Pajamas, Hosiery, Union Suits, Shirts and Shorts, Dress Trousers, Sweaters, Hats, Caps, Polo Shirts, Neckwear, Belts, Suspenders and Accessories. Every single article and particle of this fine stock is marked down to prices which we firmly believe will never be duplicated. There is no precedent by which this great sale can be measured—COST DOES NOT FIGURE. We are bound and determined to move all seasonable merchandise; PROFIT OR NO PROFIT! Now and then you will find firms putting on sales, but not often do you find a new store such as ours which is willing to make the drastic reductions we are making in this sale.

RIGHT NOW IN THE VERY HEART OF THE SEASON

We are going to conduct this, our first store-wide close-out sale, in order to unload our entire stock of seasonable merchandise. You can readily realize that the selling of the huge amount of stock can only be accomplished through the most drastic measures. This stock could, of course, be sold in the regular channels of business, but now, due to existing conditions, every article and partical of stock—in fact, everything in the store goes at sensationally reduced prices to accomplish this absolutely necessary result. Come today, come tomorrow, come each and every day of this great sale and reap the harvest of these golden savings.

Centre County Has Big Swamp

Bear Meadows Is Bottomless Quagmire In Spots, Scientists Find

OTHER BEAUTY SPOTS LISTED

HARRISBURG. — Pennsylvania, rich in historic shrines, also has many areas of singular beauties within the state forests which are set aside for permanent preservation in a natural condition.

The Department of Forests and Waters which has jurisdiction over these areas today calls attention to a number of the most unusual sites which are being permanently preserved.

Bear Meadows, located in Centre county, is a bottomless quadmire of 350 acres which, in spots, is said to be very dangerous to travelers. For many years, botanists have regarded the Bear Meadows as a favorite field. In this great forested meadow grow specimens of the pitcher plant, the sundew and other rare plants common to the boggy swamps of the north. The original growth of Balsam fir, Tamarack and Black spruce, has been cut out, but there is now developing a young growth of these coniferous trees. Laurel and rhododendron are also very abundant and in some places form impenetrable thickness.

The Detweiler run area located in Huntingdon county comprises a tangle of giant original forest trees mostly pine and hemlock with an understory of rhododendron.

The Allen Seager area, named for Allen Seager, a young American poet who gave his life in France, is located along Stone Mountains in Huntingdon county and comprises about 155 acres. Within this area are hemlock trees of unusual size and beauty, some of them no doubt were growing here when Columbus discovered America. There are also groups of table mountain pine and magnificent growths of rhododendron, some of them with stems forty feet high.

Martin Hill area is located at the foot of Martins Hill in Bedford county and contains nine acres of old original hemlock, within the gorge of one of the highest mountains in southern Pennsylvania. Martin Hill is 3,075 feet above sea level. On its summit is a forest observation tower from which is to be had a magnificent view in all directions. On this area was formerly a saltpetre cave from which Elijah Huff is supposed to have mined saltpetre for the use of the government in making gunpowder during the revolutionary war.

FRENCH FLEET WILL DEFEND ALL VESSELS

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 24.—"Go to the rescue and defense" of any French ship molested in any way.

These today were understood to be the orders flashed by the French government to the commander of the French Mediterranean fleet in the midst of one of the gravest European crisis in recent years.

It was indicated France and Britain would adopt a common line of action should Germany attempt to blockade Loyalist Spain.

America now has every necessary device for defence except one to stop irresponsible mouths.

CHINA ABOLISHES 190 TAXES

(International News Service)

CANTON—The world's luckiest taxpayers are living in the Chinese province of Kwangtung. Immediate abolition of 190 taxes, described as "exorbitant," has been ordered there by Mr. Tseng Yang-Fu, mayor of Canton and acting finance commissioner for Kwangtung. Nine special commissioners have been despatched by Mr. Tseng to various districts to see that the new order is promptly and efficiently carried out.

ONE DAY OF THE WORLD

(International News Service)

MOSCOW—One of the strangest books ever published has now appeared in Leningrad. It is called "One Day of the World." Written at the suggestion of Maxim Gorky, the book represents a record of events which took place all over the world on one day—September 27, 1935. The book contains more than 1,100 pages of text written by authors, journalists and scientists of various countries.

The government refused to deliver mail containing food for workers who wouldn't strike. At last we know the government's definition of "neutrality".

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 24.—Some 150,000 truck owners in Pennsylvania were notified today that the new law regulating them has more "teeth" in it than its predecessor.

The Public Utility Commission began mailing notices to the truckers informing them of the new regulations. The PUC not only regulates common carriers but also contract carriers and brokers.

"Persons who transport for hire without commission approval," the PUC said, "may be fined $50 for each day of unlawful operation and suffer suspension of registration of the motor vehicles used in such service and revocation of drivers' licenses."

The new law requires registration of all contract carriers or brokers seeking to do business.

Public Address System Will Be Used In Services

Expect More Than Capacity Crowds At Calvery Tabernacle Sunday

Although this is just the third week of the second annual all-summer Bible conference at Calvary Gospel pavilion in East New Castle, the attendance has so increased under the ministry first of Rev. Lindberg, and now of Rev. John Carerra, that regular week night crowds are the size of former Sunday evening crowds.

The first overflow crowd was witnessed last Sunday evening and since then the tabernacle has been practically filled each night. Workers are anticipating more than capacity crowds at the three services Sunday and will be prepared with a public address system. That will be Mr. Carerra's closing day.

Last night the evangelist's subject was "The Shadows of the Near Return of Christ." Tonight he will speak on "The Wrong Road" and Friday night on "The Devil's Workshop Destroyed." No service Saturday night.

Life is endless repetition. You steal a girl because her dad thinks you aren't good enough for her; then a boy steals your girl because you think he isn't good enough.

THIS HILLSVILLE CARPENTER COULD HARDLY GET HIS BREATH

Suffered Terribly From Acid Indigestion, Gas Bloated His Stomach, Acid Risings Burned Throat, Heart Palpitated, Due To Constipation. Declares New Medicine Vendol Gave Astonishing Relief.

MR. NICK PALUMBO

The quick relief the new medicine Vendol gives is often surprising to local men and women who have been suffering a long time and have not been successful in finding the right medicine. That is why they give such enthusiastic reports to the Vendol Man in New Castle Drug Co., where he is introducing this great remedy and explaining it to crowds every day.

One of the latest outstanding persons to tell how Vendol helped them is Mr. Nick Palumbo, popular carpenter for the Pittsburgh Limestone Co., residing at Hillsville, Pa., near this city, who says: "I have never in all my life taken any medicine that gave such outstanding relief as Vendol. It relieved my constipation, then all the other troubles just seemed to fade away.

"I often had attacks of indigestion, then the gas in my stomach would be so bad and press around my heart so strong that I could hardly get my breath, especially if I exerted myself. Sour, acid, burning liquids would rise up in my throat and burned so till it felt raw.

"I also felt bilious, had headaches, spots danced before my eyes and often had dizzy feelings rush over me.

"Vendol certainly proved wonderful in my case and after I was given such gratifying relief from constipation I never have indigestion, gas, cramps, sour stomach or any of the other troubles that had been making me so miserable. I can certainly recommend Vendol to everyone suffering like I was."

VENDOL contains 12 of Nature's Roots and Herbs, combined with mild Alkalines, so it is like taking several different medicines at one time. That is why this Amazing Formula has such a splendid action on suffering people. Some of its ingredients act to relieve excess acidity in the stomach, others give the bowels a good cleansing, still others act as a dieuretic to the kidneys, and others relieve pains of rheumatism when caused by a sluggish bowel condition. Weak, miserable people get such a cleansing and invigorating action from Vendol they soon feel like different men and women.

Make up your mind now to begin taking Vendol and put yourself on the road to better health Come to New Castle Drug Co., 31 East Washington St., ask for me, the Vendol Man, and I will explain all about this great Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine that is helping so many people right here in our home town. No charge, so come today, if possible. The New Castle Drug Co., 24 N. Mill St., also sells and recommends Vendol.

'Bootleg' Coal Miners Strike For Higher Pay

Strike Called By Independent Miners And Truckers Association At Pottsville

MINOR DISORDERS REPORTED TODAY

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 24.—Pennsylvania's "bootleg" coal miners, men who dig anthracite coal from rickety pits and make-shift mine workings on private lands, were on strike today demanding a bigger "cut" from the profits of the illegitimate industry.

The strike, called by the Independent Miners and Truckers Association, organization of coal "bootleggers," is aimed at breaker operators. The miners are now paid six and one-half cents per run-of-the-mine cubic foot of coal at the breakers. They ask a half-cent increase.

The miners, claiming they "are the ones who take the risk," threatened to set up their own breakers to prepare the coal for the market, unless the demands for an increase are met. At the breakers the coal is cleaned and graded before being re-sold to truckers who carry it to the consumer.

Minor Disorders

Minor disorder occurred in several sections as pickets halted trucks attempting to run coal to the breakers. One trucker was chased for several miles by an irate throng before "convinced" he ought to go back and dump his load of coal. There were several fist fights.

"We are the ones who take the risk and we are entitled to the increase," said Joseph Brennan, newly-elected president of the organization of coal "bootleggers."

Local authorities appeared puzzled as to what court to take in the industrial dispute since most of the "bootleg" mines are on regular coal company property and the industry itself is admittedly illegal.

Plan To Drop 27,184 Workers On WPA Projects

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A total of 165,210 workers will be employed by the WPA in Pennsylvania by July 15, officials said today.

This, it was said, would require a reduction of 27,184 from the number of employed June 5.

In all, throughout the nation, reductions averaging 15 per cent and totaling more than 300,000 persons have been ordered by the WPA by July 15.

From a total of 1,976,429 workers on June 5, the WPA quota has been ordered reduced to 1,665,477.

For Ohio the figures are 90,000 and 23,678.

The $1,500,000,000 work relief fund is expected to provide for an average of 1,750,000 workers for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

HALT IS ORDERED ON INVASION OF WARREN DISTRICT

mobiles and persons found bearing arms and to turn all "outsiders" back.

The situation here which had been tense throughout the night eased with the return to work of most of those who answered the "holiday" walkout call yesterday. CIO headquarters said the Warren concerns still closed, Brainard Steel, Van Hueffel Tool company and Sunlight Electric Products company, will reopen later in the day.

Three-Day Suspension.

At nearby Niles, 600 employes of the Niles Steel Products company, a subsidiary of the struck Republic Steel, were given a three-day suspension by F. R. Schaefer, vice president and general manager. Schaefer said his company has a two-year agreement with its employes which they violated by halting work yesterday and joining the "holiday" demonstration

"When they return Monday," he said, "they'll do so without an agreement."

National guard reinforcements moved into Warren during the night. They were being held in readiness outside the trouble zone while heavy guards patrolled Pine street and the entrance to the Republic mill here, the scene of yesterday's disorders.

Non-union workers went in and out of the Republic plant this morning through heavy lines of bristling bayonets. Republic officials said 1550 men entered the plant but CIO leaders placed the number at 656. They blamed the guardsmen for helping non-union workers enter the plant.

Quiet At Youngstown.

At Youngstown, the closed plants of Youngstown Sheet & Tube company remained closed but guardsmen permitted food to be taken inside and allowed men in the plants since the strike began at midnight May 26 to leave and be replaced with other men.

A total of 177 men and a few women, arrested in a roundup of "outsiders" Monday night here, were released on bond after CIO atotrneys went into court and instituted habeas corpus proceedings. Speedily, municipal authorities arraigned the prisoners, many of whom were reported armed when arrested, specific charges of carrying concealed weapons and inciting riot were preferred, and they were held for court on bonds ranging from $100 to $200.

At Canfield, where 17 were arrested Monday night, seven men were held under bonds of $2,500 each on charges of carrying weapons. The others were turned over to Sheriff Ralph Elser for prosecution.

Enforce Court Order.

Scenes of riotous disorder followed enforcement yesterday by national guardsmen of a court order enjoining interference with the movement of "loyal" Republic Steel workers in the five-mile long struck steel plant here.

The freed workers, who have been besieged in the plant since the strike began four weeks ago today, began pouring out of the plant shortly after noon between lines of bristling bayonets.

A general sympathy strike call went out and workers in 13 small manufacturing plants answered, together with about 1,000 Works Progress Administration employes.

Before the troops reached the scene 11,000 of them paraded thru the city's streets protesting against the court injunction restraining mass picketing of the Republic plant.

A milling crowd suddenly began a march on the plant on the southern edge of town. The crowd sang and cheered as it marched, an American flag at its head. At a barricade two blocks from the plant the throng stopped.

Non-union workers began driving out of the mill. The crowd's yelling became a chorus of boos as it closed around the first car in angry protest. A dozen cars passed through unscathed, however, as CIO leaders and city police strove to avert violence.

Car Is Wrecked.

One, more daring than the rest, however, attempted to drive his car into the plant. In an instant his automobile was upside down in the street, wrecked, and he himself rescued, after a half hour of struggling in a police cruiser.

In another hour the troops arrived, first a squad of 16 national guardsmen and then additional soldiers until the street was filled with khaki uniforms and shining bayonets.

The crowd, ordered to disperse, remained steadfast, cries of "scab", "strikebreakers" and "cossacks" being hurled at the soldiers who advanced with fixed bayonets.

Tear Gas Used.

No shots were fired, but tear gas intermittently for the next hour splashed over the stubborn crowd, slowly moving it back until union headquarters was reached a block away.

There the crowd of 11,000 stopped, massed on the sidewalks, sullenly glaring at the national guardsmen, who faced them with bayonets fixed.

Brigadier General Ludwig S. Connelly, in charge of the Warren detachment of 300 men, said he had 650 men in addition ready to move at any moment. At Youngstown, 15 miles away, where things were quiet, there were 1,000 additional troops standing by in case of need.

General Connelly said.

"I have ordered my men to withhold gunfire except as last resort.

"We will stand by on the alert all night if necessary, but if we can't handle it any other way, we'll resort to bullets."

By 6 o'clock last night the sympathy strike had spread to Niles, O, midway to Youngstown, where six more small factories were closed by the walkout, termed a "holiday" by strike leaders.

In Youngstown all was quiet during the day except for the arrest of a dozen strike leaders by city police, all held on open charges of suspicion.

COCKNEY SPEECH?

A woman traveling by train was talking with the man in the next seat. In describing her holiday, she said that she had visited San Jose.

"You pronounce that wrong," said the man. "It is San Hosay. In California you should pronounce all J's as H's. When were you there?"

The woman thought a minute, then answered, "In Hune and Huly."

Women Remain In W.P.A. Room

Continue Protest On Sewing Project Layoffs At W. P. A. Headquarters

GROUP REMAINS THROUGH NIGHT

Taking over the conference room of the WPA building on South Mill street, a group of women of the sewing project, either at present on the payroll or recently laid off spent Wednesday night in the room and today at noon were still occupying the room.

The strike could hardly be classed as a sitdown strike inasmuch as the women go and come when they feel so inclined. At times the occupants are down to five and at times up as high as 18 or 20. About fifteen spent the night in the building.

The occupation of the room and small corridor is not affecting the work in the WPA offices as the two doors leading from the conference room and corridor to the second floor offices have been nailed up. Ingress and egress to the room is gained by the women by the use of the narrow steel fire escape on the west side of the building.

The decision to stay in the building came Wednesday following a two hour conference with Director J. Vale Downie and Miss Elizabeth Hum, acting supervisor of women and professional projects. The women felt they had not received the action they demanded and refused to leave the building.

When food was brought to the women shortly after noon Wednesday the women carrying it found the front door barred. They went around to the fire escape and climbing it, handed the food through the window. At five o'clock, dismissal time, the doors to the offices were nailed, to prevent any person getting into the file rooms and offices and the women got the door to the fire escape open.

A few of the women who struck on Tuesday, went back to work this morning. Of the group interviewing Mr. Downie on Wednesday, eight are presently employed and fifteen had been laid off, it is stated. The layoffs of a week or more ago saw 69 women removed from the sewing project payrolls.

No effort was made today to evict the women nor was any attempt made to hold further conferences. Mr. Downie's position is that the layoffs were on the orders of Harrisburg, that they were made with as much care and thought as possible and that nothing can be done to restore any of the women to the payroll unless it can be shown that less needy persons are still on the payroll, in which case it would be necessary to remove some now on in order to put back women who were laid off.

The women's position is that they are going to stay in the building until something is done.

An official announcement said the Graf Spee was sent to Spain to "guard German interests in Spanish waters."

The one shown above, Barnard said, will not. (Central Press)

Urges Lashing For Wife Deserters

(International News Service)

DENVER, Colo.—"The best way to treat men who run away from their wives and children to join wild parties with other women is horse whipping."

This was the emphatic comment of Federal District Judge J. Foster Symes in granting parole to two coal miners who pleaded guilty to Mann Act charges.

Judge Symes said he would grant parole to the two men, J. R. Manning and Ansel Garrett, "although," he added, "I don't know why your wives should want you back."

Manning and Garrett admitted they traveled to Texas with two high school girls. They were arrested by Pueblo, Colo., police as they were returning to Denver.

Refining Company Picnic Wednesday

Crowd Gathers For Event At Rock Springs Park Wednesday Afternoon

Wednesday at Rock Springs Park the New Castle Sales District employes of the Atlantic Refining Company had their annual picnic and a crowd of 160 participated.

In addition to the employes and their families invitations had been issued to five retired men of the company. The district sales manager, C. B. Sproull, was unable to attend because of the death of his father.

The afternoon was filled with games, races and other sports. The baseball game played by the office boys versus the truckers was an exciting interval and the truckers came out the winners. In the evening an elaborate picnic dinner was served, and later the guests enjoying dancing.

Safety awards were distributed to eleven drivers who have had two continuous years of driving without an accident.

HYBRID COW IN LONG TREK

Hybrid and owner, Leland C. Wilson

This hybrid, said to be the only living male offspring from a bison bull and a domestic cow, is attracting much attention on a tramp across America. The animal, known as a catalo, is drawing a covered wagon along with him. He drives like a horse and obeys his owner, Leland C. Wilson. Bred on a ranch at Colville, Wash., the animal already has traveled 7,000 miles. The trip across country is being made to interest stockmen in what Wilson says is a larger, superior breed of livestock.

Joint Reprisal Warning Given

Italy Serves Notice On Spanish Loyalist Government It Is Learned

NO DEMONSTRATION BY NAVAL VESSELS

(International News Service)

ROME, June 24.—Italy has served notice on the Valencia government that any aggressions against Italian or German ships by Spanish Loyalist vessels will be met with immediate Italo-German joint reprisals, it was learned today.

This blunt threat apparently was regarded as sufficient to prevent a repetition of an asserted incident in which the German Cruiser Leipzig was allegedly attacked by Loyalist submarines.

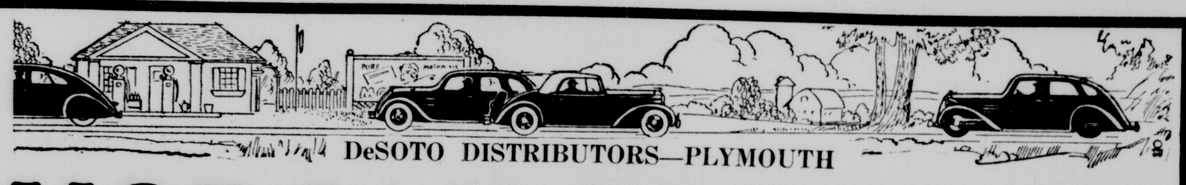

There will be no naval demonstration off Valencia by German and Italian warships, according to present plans, and information here credits Premier Mussolini with curbing German desires to stage a naval "show of force" under the nose of the Spanish government.

Meanwhile, it was reported Italian warships will remain in Spanish waters to prevent war materials and volunteers from reaching the Loyalists.

Furthermore, Italy, having withdrawn with Germany from the neutrality patrol, considers herself free from non-intervention obligations, despite the fact she did not withdraw from the non-intervention committee.

Some quarters interpreted this to mean that all Italian regulations against shipment of arms, munitions and volunteers to the Spanish insurgents are void.

With the situation in the Mediterranean area tense, rumors flew thick and fast that Il Duce may intervene openly in Spain. Government officials proposed to know nothing about this.

Farmer Adopts Orphan Raccoons

Kindness Shown To Animal By Farmer Brings Two More For Dinner

(International News Service)

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., June 24.—This little raccoon was hungry so it approached farmer A. H. Burris in his corn field. Burris fed it.

The next morning there came another little raccoon, craving food and Burris also fed it.

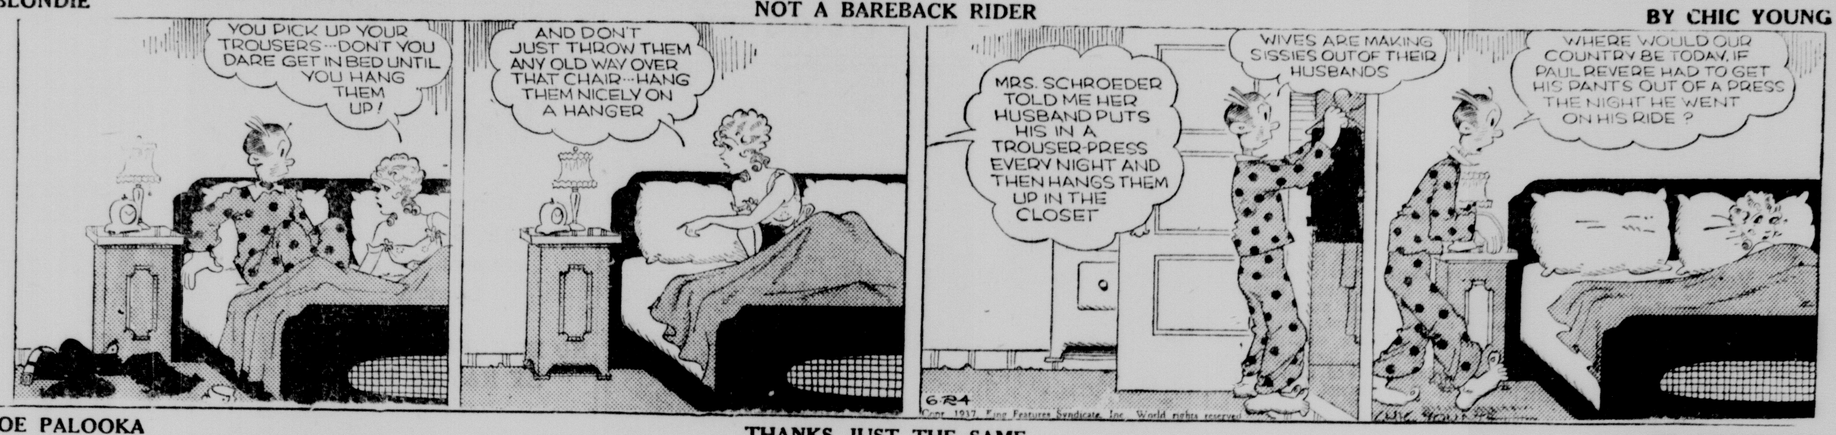

But when the third little raccoon came along Burris became curious. He fed it and followed. In a forest nearby, in the hollow of a tree, splintered by lightning, he found the mother raccoon dead.

So Burris gathered up the three orphans, fed them again, and then the state game protector adopted them.

Oppose Move For Boost In Income Tax

Senate Leaders Rally To Defeat Proposals Of Senator LaFollette

LaFOLLETTE OFFERS FOUR NEW PLANS

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Heeding President Roosevelt's pledge against any tax increase this year, senate leaders rallied their ranks today to defeat the insurgent LaFollette drive to impose higher Federal income taxes.

Senator LaFollette (P) of Wisconsin, offered four plans for higher income taxes as amendments to the pending $650,000,000 miscellaneous tax extension bill. His proposals would raise from $110,000,000 to $347,000,00 of new revenue annually.

Despite the greatest governmental debt in history, an unbalanced Federal budget and a steadily rising deficit, the leaders declared higher income taxes now might disrupt improving business conditions and result in a loss of revenue rather than a gain.

One of LaFollette's plans called for an increase all up the line in income surtaxes to be accomplished by starting the lowest 4 per cent surtax rate at $3,000, instead of at $4,000 as under existing law. Another would impose these new rates and reduce the personal exemptions from $1,000 for single person to $800 and from $2,500 for married persons to $1,000. A third would impose a 2 per cent normal rate on the reduction in personal exemptions. A fourth was a combination of the other three.

LaFollette based his whole drive on increasing the surtaxes by lowering the bracket at which they start from $4,000 to $3,000.

"If the senate doesn't vote for the increase in surtax rates," he said, "I shall not ask for a reduction in exemptions. I do not favor increasing the taxes of the little fellows unless the senate agrees to ask those people in brackets up to $50,000 to pay a little more."

Would Reduce Exemption

The LaFollette proposal to reduce income tax exemptions alone would raise $110,000,000 of new revenue from the little fellows. Before tackling the income tax fight, the senate has agreed to vote at 12:30 P. M. on the question of extending the miscellaneous taxes for one or two years. The house voted for the two-year extension but the senate finance committee limited it to one year. Administration leaders wanted to reverse the committee, so the tax bill can be enacted finally without returning it to the house for concurrence in any senate amendment.

There was some Republican opposition to the bill. They argued the taxes were levied in 1932 upon the promise they would not be reenacted. Since then, they have been renewed twice. Most of them expire June 30. Senator Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, is leading an effort to modify the corporate surplus tax so as to provide a cushion for indebted corporations. This was opposed by administration leaders.

World's Largest Tiger Dominates Circus Zoo

SAMSON, a feature of the huge Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Circus menagerie.

Far from his native lairs, but here the true monarch of the menagerie, is Samson, the largest tiger ever seen in captivity, measuring more than thirteen feet from tip of nose to tip of tail. Long since it has been known that a tiger is the true monarch of beasts, that a tiger can with ease subdue the vaunted lion. And so to Samson, Royal Bengal jungle giant in the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Circus zoo, must be accorded all the homage one would give the reigning sovereign of any state.

Majestically and alone, Samson stalks in his huge cage, looking with somewhat contemptuous eye upon the frail human beings who gaze in awe at his gargantuan frame. And yet in his eyes there lurks the kindly light of one who sympathizes and understands.

Samson is seven years old, weighs a half ton and stands five feet high at his shoulders. He has been the subject of many paintings. Noted artists have come to the winter quarters of the great circus in Sarasota, Florida, to place his likeness upon canvas, and on the road many artists sketch and paint this beautiful beast.

In the menagerie of the Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus which will exhibit in New Castle, Wednesday, July 7, there are more than 1,000 rare animals gathered from every corner of the globe, including a family of long-tusked African pigmy elephants and a herd of tiny pongurs from India. Strange tales could be told of the bringing together of this huge travelling zoo, for the agents of the big show have faced dangers and hardships innumerable that the children of America and their parents might see these wonders of the far countries.

A full hour, before the main performances of the circus begin at 2 and 8 P. M., is allowed visitors to leisurely inspect the great menagerie, which includes fifty elephants, a herd of the tallest giraffes ever exhibited, a baby giraffe, two rhinoceri, a giant hippopotamus, 26 camels and as many zebras.

But the menagerie animals are only a part of the great 1937 edition of the world's largest circus. Besides, there are 800 men and women arenic champions; hundreds of brand new foreign features, including the coossal new opening spectacle, "India"; 700 thoroughbred horses and 150 of the funniest clowns on earth.

DeMille Denies Evading Of Tax

Motion Picture Director Denies Charges That He Tried To Evade Surtaxes

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, June 24.—Citing an earlier ruling, Cecil B. DeMille, motion picture producer, today answered Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy T. Helvering's declaration that DeMille had made a "purposeful attempt to evade surtaxes."

The charge was made in Washington.

In a formal statement today DeMille said:

"The United States Board of Tax Appeals rendered a decision in the case of the government against Cecil B. DeMille productions, and Cecil B. DeMille personally, which clearly and emphatically denied the government's contention DeMille productions was formed to evade taxes, and the board of tax appeals so rendered its decision against the government.

Nothing To Add

"This opinion was unanimously upheld by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the ninth district. There is nothing I can add to the decision of the two courts except to quote from Dr. James Rowland Angels' speech made yesterday to the graduation class of Yale: 'Tyranny is not less tyrannical when exercised by a dictator of an irresponsible government bureaucracy * * * than when imposed by an economic royalist.' I am thankful to the American spirit which thus far has preserved the integrity of our courts."

Local Aviator Buys Airplane

William H. Ice Adds New Travel-Aire Bi-Plane To List Of Local Ships

William H. Ice, 201 Boyles avenue, returned to the local airport, Wednesday afternoon, in a new Travel-Aire Bi-Plane. The plane is one of the latest in design and construction, and is the strongest biplane ever constructed, according to government aviation standards.

The plane is powered by a seven cylinder Wright whirlwind, 175 horse power motor, with a cruising speed of 120 miles per hour, and a top speed of 140 miles per hour.

The engine is of the same make and model, only of improved design, of that used by Lindbergh in his Atlantic flight. It is equipped with the latest instruments, lights for night flying, booster starter, cockpit cover for streamlining, compass, Hamilton propeller.

Mr. Ice plans to fully streamline the plane and install blind flying equipment. The plane will be stationed at the New Castle airport, Youngstown road, any afternoon and evening in good weather, and will be used for rides, sight-seeing tours, and charter trips.

The plane is being hangared at Bernard Airport, Youngstown, there being no hanger facilities in New Castle, at present.

STRAY DOGS BEWARE

NEW ORLEANS, La.—"Calling all cars. Calling all cars. Go to the corner of Canal and Bourbon streets and pick up a dog." Police radio here may soon be sending out calls like this as the city puts into effect its campaign to rid the streets of stray dogs. The dog catcher's wagons are now radio equipped and police radio will broadcast orders to track down dogs in the same manner that it orders squad cars to track down criminals. Move is the result of an epidemic of dog biting.

"I might have known," said Harry Fifield, Putnam, Conn., when his sixth set of twins was born.

Jan Rubini, radio and film violinist, charged in a divorce suit at Hollywood that his wife, Adele, Australian musical comedy star, declared she "loathed Americans" and wanted to associate only with Englishmen and Australians. He added that she flirted with a strange man over the telephone and when he protested she kicked him so hard that he was in bed several days.

Joe Schofield, 51, of Punxsutawney, demonstrated to Clairton police that he is not particular when it comes to the choice of a bed. "I was sleepy so I just crawled in out of the way," he told Lieutenant D. T. Snyder, when the latter pulled him from beneath a stalled railroad car where he was sound asleep.

John Barrymore and Elain Barrie are reconciled again. After ardent exchange of long soul kisses at a railroad station they announced that "we are very, very happy." "I love only John," the dark-eyed New Yorker said.

Conneaut Lake is at the highest level in 25 years, according to old residents. Part of the outlet coffer dam was removed a few days ago by a force of men under direction of Joseph Stastny, resident engineer at Pymatuning Lake, to keep the water level from rising higher. The ground in this part of the country is so saturated with moisture that an ordinary rain makes a big runoff. This was reflected, too, at Pymatuning reservoir when last Friday in 12 hours the level rose three-tenths of a foot, of 1½ billion gallons.

CROP CONDITIONS IN STATE ADVANCED

HARRISBURG, June 24.—Pennsylvania crops, with three exceptions, were in better condition on June 1 than they were on that date last year and were above the June 1 average for the ten years ending in 1935, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture announces.

The condition of winter wheat, oats, barley, rye, tame hay meadows, wild hay, pastures, apples, peaches, pears and cherries is better than last year and above the ten-year average. Clover, timothy and oats are in much better condition than they were a year ago but their condition is slightly below the ten-year average.

The present condition of the winter wheat crop indicates a 1937 production in this state of 19,988,000 bushels, against 19,399,000 bushels last year and an average production of 17,348,000 for the five years from 1931 to 1935. Estimates of the rye crop place it at 1,260,000 bushels, the same as the 1936 crop, but 383,000 bushels below the five-year average.

CUPID BLAMED

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, June 24.—Cupid is responsible for the fact that Kansas City is in Missouri, instead of Kansas, according to former Mayor M. Beardsley.

At a dinner of old-timers here, he related how the territorial legislature of Kansas, meeting in 1885 at Shawnee Mission, sent a representative to Washington to have the Kansas boundary extended so that it would include the growing community.

But the Kansan fell in love at the capital—and forgot all about what he was sent there to do.

HERE'S WHY FIRESTONE ALWAYS GIVES YOU SO MUCH

More for your Money

Higher Quality Raw Materials! More Efficient Manufacturing! Lower Distribution Cost!

These All Combine to Give You Extra Values at No Extra Cost!

FROM the day of its introduction, the Firestone Standard Tire has more than lived up to its name by setting a new high standard of tire values. Hundreds of thousands of car owners have already bought it as their number one choice because they saw in it more value for their money.

"How does Firestone do it? How can they build so many extra value features into Firestone Standard Tires and yet sell them at such low prices?" The answer is simple — Firestone controls better-quality rubber and cotton supplies at their source, keeps manufacturing costs low by efficient factory methods and sells in such huge volume that distribution costs are held to a minimum.

Make no mistake about this! The Firestone Standard Tire gives you the blowout protection of Firestone's patented Gum-Dipping process. Every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated and coated with pure, liquid rubber which counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life. Its scientifically designed tread gives greater non-skid protection and longer wear. And those two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread guard against punctures and provide greater strength by binding the tread and cord body into one inseparable unit.

Before you buy ANY tire at ANY price, see today's top tire value — the Firestone Standard Tire. Don't risk your life with thin, worn tires on your Fourth of July trip. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires.

Listen to the Voice of Firestone featuring Margaret Speaks, Monday evenings over Nationwide N. B. C. Red Network

TODAY, from the jungles of Liberia, there has arisen a great rubber plantation on which the world's finest rubber is being produced.

Fifteen years ago, when crude rubber was controlled by a foreign monopoly and prices skyrocketed to $1.20 per pound, Firestone foresaw the necessity of developing their own rubber supply.

From the Firestone-owned and Firestone-developed rubber plantations in Liberia there comes an ever-increasing supply of rubber, bringing greater savings to car owners in the form of extra values at no extra cost.

FIND BONES OF EXTINCT ANIMALS

HARRISBURG, June 24.—No traces of prehistoric human occupancy have been found in the caves of Pennsylvania, but many bones of lower animals have been discovered in three or four caves, the Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey in the Department of Internal Affairs reported recently. The most interesting point about these discoveries is that many of the bones belong to animals that have become extinct.

Several years ago the Department of Internal Affairs through its Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey, explored and reported on nearly a hundred caves in Pennsylvania, some of which would have made good shelter for human beings, but, except Indian artifacts, no trace of human occupation was found.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

NAVIGATED BY SOUND.

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 24.—The secret of how Capt. Anthony G. Medine used to pilot the old stern wheelers down the Mississippi on the blackest nights without running them ashore, was recalled here this week as the 78 year old riverman was buried. He navigated by sound. During the day he would test out his whistle and note where he was by the time the echo hooted back from the river banks. He finally developed a system where a trio of sharp whistle blasts and the time it took for the echo to answer, would give him his approximate location.

Public Decides Labor Contests

Will Have Last Say Between Lewis And His C.I.O. And Corporations

BATTLE PROVES COMPLICATED ONE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Public opinion, in the long run, will be the deciding factor in the pending capital-and-labor contest.

Just wat direction it will take it is too soon to predict.

John L. Lewis' CIO campaign is spectacularly aggressive, which perhaps makes it seem more formidable than it really is. An attack always attracts more attention than a defense.

Nevertheless, it is evident that a large element of workers prefer their employers' terms to temporary idleness as CIO strikers.

Which is numerically the stronger group no one knows yet.

LEWIS CAN YIELD

The CIO-ites have superior leadership.

John L. Lewis is a generalissimo — able, of ironclad courage and immensely likable, except, of course, to those he is in arn - against. His lieutenants, too, are first-class men.

Lewis also knows just when to yield a little, as he did when he called off CIO's recently-planned march of 40,000 upon Johnstown, at the request of Gov. George H. Earle of Pennsylvania. It was obvious, to be sure, that Earle was more friendly to the Lewis strikers than to Johnstown's beleaguered steel mill. All the same, the CIO chieftain had the sound judgment to avail himself of this advantage by making an apparent concession. His action looked moderate, in comparison with the employing company's hard-boiled attitude.

EARLE GAMBLES

Thus Lewisonian strategy was given an appearance of moderation, calculated to win popular approval. It didn't cost CIO anything, either, for Governor Earle was shutting up the steel plant, anyway.

Parenthetically, if the CIO folk are victorious in the end, Earle materially has improved his presidential chances for 1940. However, he gambles on the prospects of a CIO victory. That question is not now an issue, though it may be in the back of the governors' mind.

The Lewisonians are at an additional advantage in that the national administration certainly is generally supposed to be at least a shade in their favor—inclined to give them, at worst, a little the breaks.

"BETTER CITIZENS"

Local sentiment in a certain class, unmistakably has been anti-CIO, as evidenced by the response of the so-called "better citizens" to join organizations of vigilantes to suppress strikers' activities.

This invariably happens in such situations. The "so-called" better citizens (and I emphasize that so-called should be put in quotes) invariably are very conservative. I don't know whether they are better citizens or not. Governor Earle says that Johnstown's mayor, who professes to speak for them, ought to be in jail.

Still, the governor may be in a minority.

Yet it is a fact that local authorities who have sought to recruit vigilantes have asked especially for American Legionnaires, and that the head of the American Legion, answering, has stated that the Legion is "no strike-breaking organization."

COMPLICATED

It is a very complicated fight.

It not only involves labor against capital but labor against labor.

Boards and committees can investigate until they're black in the face.

And that doesn't begin to take the problem into consideration. Labor and capital? How about the middleman? He's a necessity, too. And his helpers? Railroads, for instance, as well as their workers, are middlemen, in addition to merchants of all sorts.

And agriculture, too! Tenants included!

Then try to consider the whole puzzle as one thing!

Couple Celebrates 72nd Anniversary Of Married Life

Probable Record Set By Rockton Couple Reaching 72 Wedding Anniversary

(International News Service)

DUBOIS, Pa., June 24.—Two Rockton residents are celebrating 72 years of married life—a probable record for Pennsylvania's married couples.

They are Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Hollopeter. He is 97 and his wife is 90.

Seventy two years ago, Hollopeter, a young Civil War volunteer wounded in the battle of Gettysburg, returned to his home in the Clearfield Mountains. At home camp near here he married his prewar sweetheart, 18-year-old Chestina Sterling.

Informations In Four Cases Are Made By Chief

Chief of Police Ralph Criswell on Wednesday swore to informations against four persons arrested during the past several days.

He charged Harry Pagley with aggravated assault and battery before Alderman James C. Brice as the result of an alleged fight with George Lee, colored, who is in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Criswell also charged Troy Colbert, colored, with felonious assault and battery before Alderman James C. Brice as the result of the alleged stabbing of Colbert's wife. She also is in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

The police chief also said that he had charged Frank Joyce before Alderman O. H. P. Green with attempt to commit rape, indecent assault and assault and battery.

Phillip Keating was charged, the chief said, before Alderman O. H. P. Green with open lewdness and indecent exposure. Keating furnished bail for a hearing before the alderman.

Probe Slaying Of Former Kentucky Deputy Sheriff

Harlan County Judge Asks That State Troopers Be Sent To Keep Order

ANOTHER FORMER DEPUTY ARRESTED

(International News Service)

HARLAN, Ky., June 24.—Judge Morris Saylor asked for special state troopers today to preserve peace in Harlan county following the murder of Wash Irwin, 33, former deputy sheriff who recently testified before the senate civil liberties committee in Washington concerning the coal field labor riots of a year ago.

A few hours after Irwin was found fatally shot through the head in his automobile near Pine Mountain, fifteen miles from here, Sheriff T. R. Middleton arrested former deputy Allan Bowling on a warrant charging murder. Deputy Sheriff Perry G. Noe of Wallens, Ky., was being sought on a similar warrant.

Shot Three Times

Irwin was shot three times in the back of the head yesterday by an unknown assailant. Still under subpoena to the La Follette senate committee, he was under that committee's protection. He had testified against Harlan county coal operators, giving details of the operators' campaign to rid the county of union organizers.

Judge Saylor requested Adjutant General G. Lee McLain to dispatch a squad of special state officers to the coal fields "to keep order." The judge promised to discharge every deputy on the county sheriff's force by Saturday. He had already dismissed Deputy Lee Fleenor, and Deputies Irvin, Bowling and George Lee had resigned in the course of the court's "purge" of the sheriff's force.

One Runway At New Airport Is Nearly Complete

Officials State Progress At New Airport Will Be Rapid From Now On

With the completion of one runway at the new municipal airport on the Youngstown road, scheduled for June 30, WPA workmen are rushing the task of crushing and spreading the limestone base for the black top surface.

According to Work's Progress officials, over two-thirds of one runway has now received the base of stone and will be, within a very short time, ready for the top surface. It was also learned that about 90 per cent of the drainage system of the port has now been completed.

The drainage system is one of very elaborate arrangement. At various intervals along the runways sewer openings are available to carry the rain water to the underground drains which carry it away from the runways.

The program of construction is now at a place where progress will be much more rapid than heretofor. As soon as the work of applying the surface is started, it will be only a matter of a very short while until the runway will be open for use of airplanes.

When completed this new airport will have one of the highest ratings issued by the government, that of A-1, and all types of ships will be legally permitted to use the port.

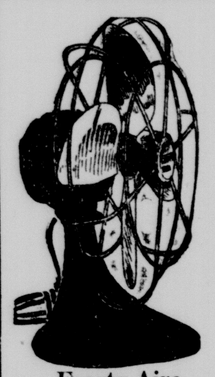

List Of Girls Who Have Signed For Scout Camp

Registrations Beginning To Come In For Encampment In August

Camp Phillips will be the site used again this August for two weeks of Girl Scout camping. Much interest is being shown by the girls, and registrations are coming in to Girl Scout headquarters daily. Two units are nearly full, and the others are filling up fast. An international theme is being used as a basis for program planning, and girls will have a chance to participate in making peasant costumes of other countries, learning their folk dances and songs, and working out designs in crafts representing these countries, as well as hearing stories around the camp fire by persons having visited the particular country. Water pageants and general camp fires will be carried out with this theme in mind. Every girl who registers is being given a tie, representing her unit. Those who have registered, and have not yet received their tie, should call for it at Girl Scout headquarters.

Those who have already registered are: Jean Patton, Mary Louise Davis, Dorothy Gibson, Barbara Louise Hamil, Anne Kutz, Kate McMillan, Catherine Louis McOwen, Patricia Anne Taylor, Dorothy Hayes, Marjorie Harris, Martha Jeanette McCluskey, Maxine Mercer, Jane Morris, Elsie Mundy, Betty Lee Raney, Esther Schaller, Wilda Stewart, Eileen Waite, Helene Edgar, Nancy McKee, Ruth Nowalk, Marian Connor, Martha Davis, Mary Louise Meehan, Jeanne Metz, Sally Wilson and Betty Robinson.

Stream Pollution Measure Is Signed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 24.—The Earle administration anti-stream pollution bill was put in effect today, thus ending a long fight to purify the state's waterways.

Gov. George H. Earle has signed the measure, empowering the sanitary water board to order industries to cease discharging waters into streams believed to be harmful to health, aquatic life or recreational use.

Introduced by Rep. Mahlon F. Larue (D) Berks, the new law grants wide powers to the water board enabling it to seek court orders to force municipalities to issue revenue bonds on sewage service rentals to permit more efficient operation of sewage disposal systems.

Ladner Praises Bill

Judge Grover C. Ladner, of Philadelphia, leader in the fight against stream pollution, told Governor Earle as he was signing the Larue measure:

"Governor Earle's administration has to its credit many important liberal measures, but I venture to predict that when history records his marvelous administration, it will place among his most important achievements the redemption of Pennsylvania streams, which this bill makes possible."

The law also:

Makes it necessary—and fixes penalties on violators—for all industrial waste to be treated before being dumped into streams.

Gives the water board control over coal mine drainage, permitting this only until a "practical" means of treating the polluting agencies is discovered.

SURPRISE!

(International News Service)

BRADFORD, Pa.—There was a large crowd of spectators standing on the Kennedy street bridge gazing into the river E. A. Gibbs joined them, curious to see what he could see. A half-submerged automobile was the center of interest. Imagine Gibbs' surprise when after closer inspection he found it was his car. He was unable to account for its sudden change of location from the site where he had parked to where it ended up in the river.

Oil Commission To Hold Hearing

HARRISBURG, June 24.—Governor George H. Earle's oil industry investigating commission announced today it will hold public hearings in Oil City tomorrow and in Franklin Saturday.

The commission is investigating the advisability of making the oil industry a public utility to be controlled by the commonwealth.

Railroad Employs Midget Worker

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—They have a little workman in the shops of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad here who is four feet, two inches tall, 65 years old, weighs 121 pounds and claims to be able to swing 200 pounds weights with ease.

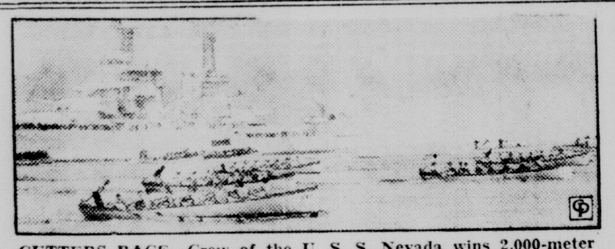

"But don't call me Shorty," he exclaims emphatically.

The little fellow who is known under the name of Frank Calacino has been with the railroad 30 years. He is the official roundhouse janitor. The shovels and brooms he uses are as big as he is but although he claims to be good natured, he resents any laughter from other employes who watch him work.

"I like the job," he commented, speaking in snatches of Italian and English. He was given a furlough 13 years ago to travel to Italy where he married his wife and then brought her to Salt Lake City.

The social security plan to pension all workers except those who need it most is based on the Bible. To him that hath shall be given.

Schmeling Will Return Soon For Bout With Louis

German Wants $600,000 For Meeting Champion, Headache For Promoters

NEW YORK MAY GET BIG BOUT

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

CHICAGO, June 24—Max Schmeling, who has crossed the ocean between here and Germany so many times that ship captains shoot him instead of the sun when they need directions, may soon be returning to this country of freedom and sit-down strikes.

His object will be a shot at Joe Louis and the Negro's freshly won heavyweight championship. His price will be $600,000.

I learned that today despite the roar of Chicago's black belt, which still was celebrating Joe's ascendancy to a title that is the greatest within the gift of boxing. This noise from the south side threatened to drown out all competition, but from my little bird—a little bird who wears a derby, speaks slaunch wise out of the corner of his mouth, and smokes stogies—I learned that promoters are hot after Schmeling.

Want Schmeling.

Starting almost in the same hour that Louis clubbed Jim Braddock to the floor, promoters started cabling Schmeling. They sent propositions by night letter, day letter, special delivery and carrier pigeon. Because they know that a return match between the Negro and the German would be as natural as young love. Placed in any decent spot it would pull a million and a half dollars through the gate. And those without the price would jump the fence.

But will the German come to terms? Yes, despite the hand-carved-run-around he was given a few weeks ago, and a report that Herr Hitler had suggested he spurn all offers to visit America.

But he isn't coming for any less than $600,000. This observer, who has practically worn out his ears keeping them to the ground, happens to know that when the German sailed for Hamburg a few weeks ago a representative of the Twentieth Century was there to see him off. And the representative wasn't there

CHURCH LEAGUE TONIGHT

The New Castle Church Golf league will go to the Field Club tonight for their weekly matches. The matches (weather permitting) will be started at 5:30 o'clock. A church league party is being planned for Castle Hills after the matches on Thursday, July 1.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Don Budge, Bitsy Grant and Frankie Parker advanced the United States tennis cause in the All-England tennis championship Wednesday at Wimbledon. The Americans who passed from the picture were Hal Surface, Kansas City, and Wayne Sabin, California. Technically an All-American semi-final is possible because the four American entries are in separate quarters of the drawsheet, Mako is in the top quarter, Grant in the second, Parker in the third and Budge in the bottom. Budge beat George P. Hughes 6-2, 6-2, 6-2; Grant won from Roland Morton 6-2, 3-6, 6-0; Mako upset Hector Fisher 6-1, 6-2, 6-1, and Parker won from Jacques Brugnon 6-0, 6-3, 6-1. Hughes is British, likewise Morton; Fisher is a Swiss Davis Cup player, and Brugnon is French. Surface fell before Franja Kukuljevic, Yugo-Slavian. Davis Cupper, 5-7, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, 9-7, and Sabin lost to Bunny Austin, England's ranking racquetteer, 6-2, 6-3 and 6-0.

Peter Askounes, the man of grappling who staged mat contests at Centennial field and also some matches at the Gardens, believes that the defeat of James J. Braddock by Joe Louis will result in an increase of heavyweights. With Joe Louis reaching the top rung within three years of professional fighting, a lot of others will sally into the boxing game, according to Peter.

Wonder what were the thoughts of Jack Dempsey an Jess Willard were when they shook hands for the first time since July 4, 1919, when they met at Comiskey Park, Chicago, scene of the Braddock-Louis title change, Tuesday night? The photograph shows the big Kansan towering over Dempsey. It was this scene that was presented at Toledo where Dempsey took the heavyweight crown from Willard who had taken it from Jack Johnson at Havana on April 5, 1915.

New Castle Club To Meet Tonight

Members of the winning team of the New Castle Rifle club interclub league will be honored tonight at a spaghetti supper at the corner of South Mill and Division street. The event starts at 6:30 o'clock.

The Hot-Heads were the winners of the recent matches. The three losing teams will be the hosts. Some fine scores have been turned in by the men in their summer shooting matches.

The members are asked to meet at 6 o'clock at the Cathedral.

Louis Signs With Jacobs For 5 Years

New Heavyweight Champion Agrees To Fight Four Bouts Each Year

SEARCH STARTS FOR "WHITE HOPE"

By CHESTER YOULL
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 24.—Time today had done a pretty somersault, and the boxing game was just about where it was 25 years ago when Jack Johnson, a lithe and heavily-muscled negro, ruled all the fighting men of the world.

Joe Louis, equally lithe and just as well muscled, is the current heavyweight champion, and precisely as in the case of Johnson's day, the rush for "white hopes" will shortly begin.

No brawny truck driver or locomotive engineer or lumberman will be safe from the horde of boxing managers who will go about the country looking for some one to smack down Joe and "restore the supremacy of the ring to the white race."

For Five Years

There is a greater stimulus behind this present search for contenders than there was in Johnson's day. Yesterday Louis signed a contract with Promoter Michael Jacobs for five years, in which he agreed to box a minimum of four fights a year.

That looks perfectly swell for all concerned with the champion on the book for at least 20 fights, and the promoter, who did a great deal to make him, all set for his own cut. But there is one serious hitch.

Who are the 20 men whom Louis will fight.

What About Maxie?

Outside of Max Schmeling and Tommy Farr, there isn't a two-footed creature in the world who would draw more than the ushers and their relatives in a fight with Louis.

Therefore the need for this "white hope" rush and we can expect to see the Carl Morrises, the Al Palzers, the Arthur Pelkeys and other sundry gentlemen of that ilk roll in a tidal wave in a 1937 to 1940 edition of the "white supremacy" craze.

There is a bare chance, of course, that Schmeling or some young man at present unknown to the general public will rise up and gently drop

McCarthy Yields Five Hits As Red Sox Take Game At Lehigh Field

The New Castle Red Sox upset the kalsomine bucket last night at the Lehigh Field and young Jack McCarthy applied the whitewash to the Schmidts 4 to 0. McCarthy gave up five hits. He fanned eight men.

Lienert led the hitting attack for the Sox with a pair of safeties. Davis was the best for the Schmidts with two hits. The Red Sox touched off the fireworks in the fourth with four runs.

Tonight the Red Sox will play at Edenburg, and either "Dutch" Updegraph or Louers will do the pitching as the Sox seek their eleventh victory of the year.

Bass Season Opens In Week

Start Of Bass Season July 1 Is Part Of State Fishing Calendar

MANY GOOD SPOTS FOR FISHING LISTED

HARRISBURG, June 24.—To the fresh water fisherman, opening of the bass season on July 1 is the apex of the Pennsylvania fishing calendar.

Good bass fishing is available to the fisherman in various sections of the state. Northeastern Pennsylvania has outstanding waters in Lake allenpaupack, Pike and Wayne counties, and the Upper Delaware river. Big Pine creek in the North Tier counties of Potter and Tioga has been furnishing constantly improving fishing for this species in recent years. Farther south, in Lycoming county, is the famous Loyalsock creek, while to the eastward, the North Branch of the Susquehanna river is outstanding for the quality of the bass fishing it produces. Other good bass streams include French creek in northwestern Pennsylvania, the main Susquehanna river to the Maryland line, the Conodoguinet creek in Cumberland county, Penn's creek in Union county, the Juniata river from its point of juncture with the Susquehanna at Duncannon to Huntingdon, and its Raystown branch from below Huntingdon to Bedford. In southeastern counties, the picturesque Perkiomen creek is outstanding.

Should clear or slightly murky waters prevail in these streams on July 1, some of the heaviest opening day catches of bass in recent years are expected by the fish commission.

The black bass was described by the late Dr. James A. Henshall as "inch for inch and pound for pound the gamest fish that swims."

There is in the strike of a small-mouthed bass or large-mouthed bass, according to Charles A. French, commissioner of fisheries, dynamic action and thrill for the angler second to no other angling episode. If live bait, a minnow or stone catfish is struck by this swift and voracious inhabitant of Pennsylvania waters, the rod tip swishes violently to the surface of the stream; hooked, the bass frequently breaks water, its head shaking madly in an effort to tear away from the hook. In striking artificial lures such as the light plug or fly and spinner, the bass is every bit as pugnacious as in hitting live bait.

Carl Hubbell Shakes Slump, Defeats Cubs

After Six Straight Losses Giant Hurler Wins One, Dean Wins For Cards

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 24.—It was a long, hard road, and one fraught with disappointment, that Carl Hubbell had to travel, but the solemn Giant left-hander was back in the win column today.

After a stretch of six straight games in which he failed to produce a victory, Hubbell broke through yesterday with a performance that was short of brilliant, but adequate nonetheless, and beat the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 4, for his ninth win of the season.

With that triumph the Giants stuck in the race for the pennant, virtually a game behind the leading Cubs and four percentage points back of the second place St. Louis Cardinals.

Dean Wins Game

The latter kept the pace with a superb game from the superb Mr. Dizzy Dean, who beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3 to 2. In winning his eleventh game, Dizzy pitched on even terms to get a 1-1 deadlock with Van Mungo through the seventh, let the Dodgers take a 2 to 1 edge in the eighth, then helped to score two runs in the under side of the frame off Roy Henshaw, who was charged with the defeat. Mungo was forced out after the seventh by a blistered finger.

Hugh Mulcahy pitched the Philadelphia Phillies into sixth place by beating the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 0, with a four-hitter and the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Boston Bees, 8 to 5.

Browns Top Yanks

The second place Detroit Tigers missed an excellent chance to gain some ground on the leading Yankees in the American circuit, the Yankees dropping a game to the lowly St. Louis Browns, 6 to 3. The Tigers lost to the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 5.

Bill Dickey belted out a brace of home runs, but Hildebrand was steady most of the way, while the Brownies were pounding Chandler and Makosky for 13 hits.

The Tigers blew a game the hard way. Hank Greenberg hit a first inning homer with the bases loaded for his 16th circuit drive of the season, but the Sox made five runs in the under side of the same frame and went on to a win from there.

Land In Cellar

The Philadelphia Athletics finally completed their dive from first place to the cellar in losing to the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 0. The Sox won the game with three hits—two of them homers by Kreevich and Appling. Dietrich and Brown collaborated in the shutout.

The Washington Senators scored the day's most one-sided victory—14 to 5, over Cleveland.

Pirates Top Boston Bees

Russell Bauers Pitches Pirates To 8 To 5 Victory Over The Bostonians

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 24.— The Pirates today were out to make it three in a row after they handed the Boston Bees an 8 to 5 loss for their 11th successive defeat.

Russell Bauers, tall rookie right-hander, held the Bees to six hits as he worked the full game for the Bucs.

The Pirates drove Danny McFayden to the showers early, scoring two runs in the first round on four hits. John Lanning and Bob Smith finished on the slab for Boston.

Pittsburgh threw a cluster of seven hits at Lanning and Smith in the third, fourth and fifth innings to score five runs.

Bauers blanked the Bees for four innings, but Fletcher opened the fifth with a triple and later scored on an infield out. Vaughan's error in the sixth paved the way for two of the three runs credited the Bees in this inning. They picked up another in the eighth on a walk, a single, and an infield out.

Russos Set Pace In Midget League

Continuing to blast the pellet with regularity, Russos kept up its dizzy pace in the Midget Softball league, handing the Pearson A. C. a 17-7 shellacking. Nomads broke into the winning stride at the expense of the strong Rangers, 9-5, and the Dewey A. C. trounced Maitland, 15-5. Ross and Miller game was called due to an argument, the score being tied, 12 all.

Firemen Upset Lawrence Indies

Score Is 9 To 3 In City League Postponed Game At Cedar Street

The Sixth Ward Firemen behind the steady seven-hit pitching of young "Speed" Faller, defeated the Lawrence Indies 9 to 3 last night at the Cedar street field. This was a postponed City league game.

Faller held the "Red Caps" in check as his mates pounded Johnny Carik and Russu for nine hits and scored as many runs. Paul Coulter, Chill and Reynolds had two hits apiece for the Firemen. Baker was the feature hitter for the Indies with a screaming home run clout to deep left field.

The Firemen pulled a neat double play, Campbell to Davies to Huston, to cut off an Indies rally. Faller whiffed four men and Russu, who relieved Carik, fanned seven men.

Strollers Nose Out N. Y. A. Team

In a typical hair raising game, National Youth Administration mushball team bowed in defeat to the East Side Strollers, 11-10.

Knocking Cy Carson out of the box in the second canto, the Youth club went to work and made things miserable for the ace of the Strollers club, Dinks Lane. With victory just around the corner, the N. Y. A. suddenly blew up and three successive errors combined with a timely hit allowed the Strollers to win out in the ninth.

Tonight, at Dean Park, N. Y. A. team opposes the Universal Pottery team. All N. Y. A. team are requested to report at Dean Park at 5:30 o'clock.

Ball Players Are Signed Up

It didn't take the City baseball league managers long to gobble up the sixteen ball players recently released by the Board of Trade team. In fact there isn't any left unsigned.

Here is where the various players went: "Fiz" Rodenbaugh and Bud Todd to the Ryantown team. Dick Witherow to the Firemen. "Blackie" Fundoots to West Pittsburg. Nick Perretti with Mahoning A. A. team. Paul McCullough, Mickey Huff and Francis Craycraft with the East Side Civics of Youngstown. Russell Steve Butchelli to Wampum. Joe Isabella with the Capitolas.

Report Car Upset In Corner Crash

E. F. Scanlon, 307 West Madison avenue, reported to police at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday, that his automobile and one driven by Walter L. Finch, 107 East Garfield avenue, were in an accident at Grant and North Mercer streets. The latter auto was upset, according to the report.

Automobiles driven by James Scarlet, 436 Neshannock avenue, and Norman Botwin, of New Jersey, were in a slight collision in North Mill street near Sycamore Way, at 10:15 a. m. Wednesday, according to another report made to police.

LOUIS SIGNS WITH JACOBS FOR 5 YEARS

Louis in the pugilistic ash can, to put a halt to the drive to save the race.

Braddock Signs

In signing up Louis, Jacobs did not forget Braddock. Jimmy, who made the fight of his life against Louis Tuesday night in losing his title, did nothing to injure his box office power in that performance; in fact, he increased it tremendously.

Jacobs and Braddock got together and signed a three-year contract, which makes it certain that the ex-champion, instead of retiring, will see plenty of action.

We are all unfair. If a man's body isn't like ours, we know it isn't his fault. Yet we hate him because his mind isn't like ours.

West Pittsburg Defeats Elks

Score Is 10 To 2 In Postponed City League Game At West Pittsburg

West Pittsburg handed the Colored Elks a 10 to 2 defeat last night at the West Pittsburg field in a postponed City League game. Tonsetic and Winters did the pitching for the winners and held the Elks to seven hits.

The West Pittsburgs found the pitching of Grey to their liking for 10 hits. "Blackie" Fundoots back in the West Pittsburg lineup celebrated his return by hitting two doubles and a single to lead the team in hits.

James Markey and Adams had extra-base hits also. The West Pittsburg team touched off a rally in the third good for five runs.

The victory keeps West Pittsburg in the lead in the first-half flag race in the circuit. The same two teams play again tonight at the Ryantown field in a regular scheduled game.

SCHMELING WILL RETURN SOON FOR BOUT WITH LOUIS

with a bouquet of flowers, or a basket of polished pears, or a package of seasick remedy. He was there with an offer of $300,000 for Schmeling to return and fight Louis if the brown boy took the title from Braddock.

Turned Down $300,000.

It is hard to imagine a man spurning $300,000 for a maximum of 45 minutes of work, but that is strictly what the Dutchman did. He not only spurned it, but he laughed. And he followed the laugh with a declaration that not for one cent less than $600,000 would he return and fight Louis.

When the agent was revived by considerate ship's officers he told Schmeling that he could return to the Fatherland and grow a world's record beard before such a demand would be met. Whereupon Schmeling, who is a Teutonic Teuton when the bargaining begins, started admiring the nearest mural and let it go at that.

That's the way the matter stands today, but don't be surprised if the German's demand is met. Because Louis, even with the title, is not in control. The German is. He is the only man Joe can fight and make serious money. And if you think Louis, and the two men who handle him, are not interested in serious money then you are the type who believes two can live as cheaply as one, and that's rock bottom for believing.

Rads Top Saks To Win Pennant

Rads Extended To Win 3-2, Wednesday Night, At Dean Park

LARGE CROWD SEES EXCITING CONTEST

In one of the closest and most exciting games of the season Wednesday night at Dean park, National Radiator softball team was extended to eke out a 3-2 triumph over a fighting Saks club. As a result the Rads captured the first half pennant of the City Softball league.

It was one of those air tight affairs in which Irv Rubeis, Rads ace, tangled with Tony Capp, a quiet sort of a chap, who hurled a crackerjack of a game. Both teams crashed through with a pair of runs in the second frame. A spectacular catch by Cowmeadow, Rads' third sacker, probably saved what appeared to be a rally that would have netted the Saks a "touchdown".

Rads came through with the deciding run in the sixth. Stone singled, Ambrosia got on as a result of a miscue and Stone scampered home when Gabby DeCaprio pasted a long fly out in left center. This was the 13th victory against one loss for the first half champs. Saks are second with 10 and 4.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

San Diego, June 22.

Today we find ourselves in dear old San Diego . . . the town with a real harbor . . . you know Los Angeles hasn't any harbor . . . well this is a beautiful spot and part of our naval equipment have their base here . . . this morning we took a water taxi around the different ships . . . it was a wonderful sight . . . visiting days are Sunday only . . . oh yes holidays if you want to be entirely correct . . . well I just had to get aboard a ship . . . I went aboard the Memphis . . . just as the big shot of the navy was getting off . . . he didn't seem to recognize me so we didn't speak . . . well the real reason I went aboard was not because I wished to break any rules but because there was a New Castle boy on that boat . . . do you remember him . . . Don Anderson . . . he is rated as an airplane mechanic . . . after getting aboard he wasn't there . . . they said he was on duty on land . . . some sailor . . . we have an appointment tonight so if everything works out alright we will give you the low down on the navy.

This is not only a navy hangout but the army plays here also . . . they have a training station and hundreds of airplanes . . . this afternoon from our hotel window we counted fifty planes landing one right after the other . . . sometimes three at a time . . . folks there is a sight. Several years ago while visiting here we sighted five hundred planes in the air at one time . . . they have added several units since then.

Staying with the airplanes a minute . . . some of the planes cost $85,000 . . . there is not only one of these but this morning we counted 28 such ships . . . I hope we never have to use them for the purpose they were made for . . . after seeing all this war equipment I often wonder . . . yes just wonder if your boy was sent out to use these toys of destruction.

* * *

One more day will finish this pleasant visit . . . then for Hollywood again where we will give you some very interesting accounts of the movie colony . . . until we board the Ranger (airplane carrier) we remain your United States Naval reporter.

Stock Market Moves Slowly

Little Change In Market Prices During Morning Trading

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 24.—The stock market moved slowly and sluggishly this afternoon.

Professional operators kept on the sidelines in the face of the uncertain European and labor situations. But motor shares managed to show gains with Chrysler up more than a point and General Motors a fraction.

Steel shares slipped, Bethlehem and U. S. Steel showing fractional losses. Coppers were up with rails making irregular headway, led by New York Central, Northern Pacific, Atchison and Illinois Central. Oils and utilities were steady. Western Union hit new low ground, adding another point to its loss yesterday.

Bonds drifted lower. Grains and cotton were little changed.

Mediators Have Conference With Heads Of Inland

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, June 24.—After conferring privately with the heads of Inland Steel Co., the Federal Mediation Board, which is attempting to settle the seven-state steel strike, today brought the executives of the other three big independent steel companies involved in the strike into the conference room.

So far, the Mediation Board has been up against a stone wall in its efforts to induce the steel executives to enter into a joint conference with union officials with the view to making an agreement with John L. Lewis' steel workers organizing committee.

Up to today, Inland Steel had been represented at the conference by Wilfred Skyes, assistant to the president of the company. At the instigation of Charles P. Taft, chairman of the three-man mediation board, other executives of Inland came from Chicago to Cleveland today to meet with the board. They were:

L. E. Block, chairman of the board of Inland; Edward L. Ryerson, Jr. vice chairman; and C. B. Randall, vice chairman; E. S. Ballard, counsel; and Sykes.

The Taft board talked with the Inland group for an hour and a half and then, a few minutes before noon, the executives of the other three companies came into the conference room. They included:

R. J. Wysor, president of Republic Steel Corp., who is taking the place of Tom M. Girdler, board chairman of Republic; Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel Corp.; and Frank Purnell, president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.

President As Strike Arbiter?

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, today expressed his willingness to accept the president of the United States as the final arbiter in all questions of dispute involved in the strike affecting four big independent steel companies.

Murray and other union officials are in Cleveland in connection with the conferences being held by the Federal Strike Mediation Board, which again met with executives of the four steel companies today.

Movie Stars Must Pay Back Taxes To Government, Report

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The path of glamour leads but to the tax collector's office, mournful cinema celebrities reflected today.

The federal government is pressing for payment of nearly $1,000,000 in alleged tax deficiencies lodged against members of the Hollywood movie colony.

Docketed for early action by the Board of Tax Appeals are more than a score of tax protests by top-flight stars.

Deficiency Assessments

According to treasury records, these deficiency assessments have been lodged against the following:

Wallace Beery, $2,498; Marlene Dietrich, $52,562; Ted Healy, $1,751; Bing Crosby, Ltd., $159,810; Charlie Chaplin, $14,592; Charles Chaplin Film Corporation, $254,973; Charles Laughton, $104,430; Mary Boland, $2,337; Adolphe Menjou, $30,080; Ed. Wynn Enterprises, $185,000; Elissa Landi, $2,373; Victor McLaglen, $1,983;

Ruth Chatterton, $10,343; Leatrice Joy, $655; estate of Will Rogers, $16,894; George Brent, $253; Claudette Colbert, $14,182; Zasu Pitts, $15,396; Joseph Von Sternberg, $5,740 and Robert Riskin, $162.

Causes Comment

In their pleas to the board, some of the stars gave way to caustic comment over the treasury's failure to comprehend how expensive it is to maintain a high position in the tinsel realm of entertainment.

Suave Adolphe Menjou, for example, contended his place in the Hollywood sun is dependent partly on sartorial impeccability. The government, therefore, should allow him to deduct as business expenses the cost of maintaining a sizeable wardrobe.

Maintaining the good-will of studio workers and employment of a personal maid are essential, but often expensive, burdens that must be borne by film actresses, Elissa Landi was quoted as saying:

"It is very important in the work of a star that she have a maid who is efficient and acquainted with her methods so that the star does not become upset while working.

"It is also the practice for stars to give various sums to studio employes and to arrange a party for them at the end of each picture for the purpose of inducing them to exert their best efforts in their behalf."

Must Look Nice

Victor McLaglen explained he uses his expensive automobile almost entirely for business. According to the actor, a man in his position can't drive a rattle-trap to all the functions he must attend.

This matter of preserving the Hollywood glamour was summed up by John Barrymore, who asked to deduct the expenses of his yacht.

"It is essential for an actor to keep bringing his name before the public first by the demonstration of his talent as an actor and likewise by other means that may suggest to people that he is an interesting and glamorous character," he told the treasury.

The government reduced Barrymore's $12,600 tax defficiency to $8,535.

Slow Progress In Mediation

Steel Executives And Strike Leaders Adamant In Stands Taken

BOARD HOPEFUL IN PEACE EFFORT

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1937.)

CLEVELAND, June 24—No progress!

This, it was learned on excellent authority today, is the status of the federal mediation board's efforts to bring the heads of the four big independent steel companies and CIO leaders together in joint conference to settle the disastrous seven-state steel strike.

The steel executives, my informant says, have been displaying a balky and somewhat truculent attitude toward two of the board members—the amiable Charles P. Taft, its chairman, and Lloyd K. Garrison. They have spoken their mind to them freely.

Guarded In Remarks

They have been guarded in their remarks directed to the third member of the board, assistant secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady, a veteran handler of labor disputes.

The steel men cannot forget that Taft and Garrison have in the past stated in writing or in speeches that they see no reason why employers should refuse to sign contracts with labor unions.

They cannot forget, either, that Taft, a Cincinnati lawyer, and son of the late President William Howard Taft, has acted as counsel for a labor group which included the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

To use the vernacular the steel executives feel they have "two strikes on them."

Position Unchanged

"Our position is unchanged," said R. J. Wysor, president of Republic Steel Corporation and Frank Purnell, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company.

Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel and Wilfred Sykes, assistant to the president of Inland Steel, had no comment to make.

But the steel men indicated they had not budged in their determination not to make either an oral or a written agreement with the steel workers organizing committee. They refuse to deal with the CIO which they regard as "communistic" and "irresponsible."

Despite the deadlock in negotiations here, Taft still is "in there trying." He arranged to have heads of the Inland Steel Corporation who previously have not participated in the discussions meet with the board this morning before he again meets the full group of steel executives.

To Meet Inland Officials

The chief of these Inland officials will be P. D. Block, of Chicago, the Inland president, who has been in ill health, and for that reason has had Wilfred Sykes represent him. The others will be Leopold Block, chairman of the board, and Edward L. Ryerson, Jr., vice chairman.

"Insiders" saw in this move an effort on Taft's part to split the united front of the independent steel companies and to win over at first the smallest of the four companies involved.

Those "in the know" contend such a move is foredoomed to failure, asserting there is no question but all four compales have decided to stand or fall together.

Murray On Ground

With John L. Lewis away from here, after being curtly informed that the steel executives refused to meet with him, Philip Murray, chairman of the SWOC, Lee Pressman, General Counsel of CIO and David McDonald, secretary and treasurer of SWOC, are on the ground awaiting developments.

Taft's mediation board met with Murray, Pressman and McDonald last night, after the board's meeting with the steel executives.

The steel executives said they would be willing to meet or have their accredited representatives meet with Murray and his colleagues at anytime in independent sessions but they declined to meet them in a joint conference.

This has put the Taft "peace parley" back where it was when it started.

Let us be thankful for the hot dog. It is the only one you can enjoy without getting hair all over you.

Parade To Precede Tin Workers Outing At Cascade, Saturday

SEVERAL SPEAKERS ARE ANNOUNCED

New Castle labor will again celebrate gains and successes by holding a big parade and picnic Saturday, June 26, it is announced.

The parade of tin mill workers and their friends will form at Rosena Furnace grounds at 10 o'clock A. M. and proceed to march to Cascade Park, where steel workers and many others will enjoy the day.

Many interesting events will take place in the city's most beautiful park. There will be races and sports events for young and old.

Feature prize for the day is a new automobile; and many other valuable prizes will be given away.

The afternoon will bring national leaders of the C.I.O. to the platform. Clinton S. Golden, director of northeastern division of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee and also Harold J. Ruttenberg, National Research Director of the S.W.O.C will speak.

Thousands are expected to attend this gala event. The climax to the days many activities will come in the evening display of fire works when the flaming letters C.I.O. will light up the sky furnishing in spectacular form this slogan of organization.

The committees in charge of the days activities promise the people of New Castle something to talk about for a long time and at the same time inspire organized workers to greater achievements.

The streets will be colorful with signs and banners carried by workers of the various departments of the mills and all have been urged to participate in the parade.

This, it is announced, will be the second time this year that labor has celebrated its victories. The first celebration having brought the Steel Workers' National Chairman, Phillip Murray, to a parade with a mass meeting at the Scottish Cathedral on May 1.

Says Republic Will Not Sign

Girdler Reiterates Stand In Statement Before Senate Committee

OUTLINES IDEAS OF PEACE PLAN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Tom M. Girdler, head of the Republic Steel corporation, told the senate post office committee today that his company will sign no contract with the striking C.I.O. because it is a lawless, communistic and irresponsible organization.

Summoned before the committee in its investigation of interference with the mails in the strike zones, Girdler presented a lengthy prepared statement in which he denounced the C.I.O. in strong language, and then offered what he termed a program "which might point the way toward industrial peace."

Might Bring Peace

"Among the principles I would suggest," he said, "are the following: (1) every worker should be free to join or not to join a union as he chooses without coercion from any source.

"(2) No employee should be forced to pay dues to a union against his will.

"(3) All employees should be permitted to take a vote by secret ballot on whether or not they want to strike.

"(4) There should be full publicity and public accounting of the financial affairs of every union.

"(5) The responsibility of a union in any contact or agreement should be equal to the responsibility assumed by a corporation. Appropriate laws to that end should be enacted.

"On the basis of these principles, the need for which has been so dramatically demonstrated by the recent history of the C.I.O., we believe that peace and harmony between management and employees would be preserved in this country.

Rights Still Exist

"There still exists certain fundamental recognized civil rights, the right of free speech, to a free press to a free assembly. These are all without substance unless coupled with the right to work, free from coercive influence. This right is the basic issue in the present controversy."

Girdler denied any question of hours, wages or working conditions was involved in the current strike. Nor, he said, is there any real strike on the part of a majority of Republic's employes.

"What has happened," he said, "is that an invading army descended on our plants and forced many of our employes from their jobs.

"Fully 23,000 of our employes have remained at work despite threats and violence and many additional thousands have been kept from work against their will.

"The basic issue of this strike is the right of American citizens to work free from molestation, violence, coercion and intimidation by a labor organization whose apparent policy is either to rule or to ruin American industry."

Indict 55 In Alleged Diamond Smuggling

(International News Service)

NEW YORK June 24.—A pert young woman with a disarming, nothing-up-either-sleeve air of innocence in her big blue eyes, tripped down the gangplank of the Normandie and submitted herself to the inquisition of the cutoms

"Nothing to declare," she smiled.

But customs men poked around through her luggage and found in one small overnight bag a false bottom, and in that treasure trove—a quarter of a million in diamonds!

And so today the federal grand jury bared a supercolossal epic of customs-dodging in an indictment naming 55 defendants, charging the smuggling of $13,000,000 worth of diamonds through New York in seven years, and generally setting an all-time record for allegations.

"The treasury department," United States District Attorney Lamar Hardy told Federal Judge Clancy, "has at last got its foot on the neck of the biggest of the diamond smugglers."

The arrest of the comely blonde from Vienna—she is now the wife of another defendant, Isaac Weinberg of this city—opened the way to such a detective-story plot.

Secret service agents and Assistant District U. S. Attorney Charles T. Murhpy spent three months in Europe following in Mrs. Weinberg's footsteps.

They picked up more clues in Paris, Antwerp, London and learned the smuggling business from the ground up. When they returned they had the whole racket "in the bag".

Some of those indicted have been under suspicion for years, but had out-foxed the customs. They have been searched and turned loose a score of times.

The reason for their long success, federal agents eventually discovered, was that they never brought the "stuff" in on their own persons They hired "carriers".

Thirty-five diamond dealers and 20 "carriers" make up the roster of defendants. Among the latter are housewives, sales girls, a school teacher, an actress, and Morris Fishman, a union organizer for the needlecraft trade, of Philadelphia.
